Dear NAIC Leaders:

As you know, pandemic risk protection has been largely unavailable in the private marketplace because the underlying peril is inherently uninsurable. Despite this, there have been efforts in some legislatures and the courts to impose liability on insurers for risks they did not, and could not responsibly, write, while some in Congress are considering prospective proposals that would ask insurers to accept future risks that are not insurable.

Recognizing the need to educate the public and especially business policyholders, APCIA and Dr. Robert Hartwig have produced the attached white paper entitled "Uninsurability of Mass Market Business Continuity Risks from Viral Pandemics." The paper cites six criteria that determine the insurability of a risk and finds that pandemic risk violates all six. In particular, it notes that the magnitude of potential losses exceeds the claims paying resources of the industry.

We hope that this paper will help legislators and other stakeholders understand the nature of pandemic risk and why insurers cannot insure it. Nevertheless, we are speaking with legislators and other stakeholders to discuss ways in which the industry can play a constructive role in helping the country deal with this extraordinary risk, and we are teaming up with several other trades on a proposal to accomplish that.

In the meantime, we hope you will find this paper useful and informative and we would be pleased to respond to any questions state insurance regulators or NAIC staff may have.

Sincerely,

David A. Sampson

UNINSURABILITY OF MASS MARKET BUSINESS CONTINUITY RISKS FROM VIRAL PANDEMICS

I. Executive Summary

The concept of insurance is both ancient and intuitive. People and institutions have for millennia understood that the losses of the unfortunate few could be "pooled" and distributed across the broader population, most of whom have sustained no loss, resulting in tangible benefits to society as a whole. The ability to both pool and redistribute fortuitous loss is the very essence of insurance.

Today, the combined capital resources of the nation's nearly 3,000 property casualty insurers provide risk protection for approximately $100 trillion in insurable exposure. Yet, even as the financial consequences of countless risks are insured, some risks—particularly those where the ability to pool and redistribute loss is compromised—defy insurability. The business continuity losses associated with pandemics are one such risk.

Insuring against business continuity losses from pandemics poses a particular set of challenges to insurers that collectively render the risk uninsurable in private insurance markets on a large scale. Potential losses can easily exceed the industry's capital, surplus and premium resources, posing a systemic risk to the industry and the overall economy. Because virtually all businesses may sustain losses simultaneously and continuously over the span of many months, the ability to spread risk—a function essential to the smooth operation of insurance markets—is severely compromised. Frequency and severity of losses cannot be precisely modeled because of a lack of historical data, creating an insurmountable obstacle to accurate pricing. Further, business income-related pandemic losses are correlated with both financial market losses and other insurance losses, so insurers cannot mitigate pandemic-related business continuity losses through diversification. Consequently, it is unlikely that private insurance markets will be able to offer affordable, widely-available commercial insurance products that insure against business continuity risks from pandemics. Comprehensive government programs designed to directly address large scale business continuity losses from pandemic are necessary to address this risk prospectively and could, over time, potentially encourage the innovation of limited specialized pandemic coverages by private insurers and reinsurers.

II. Why Pandemic Risks Are Inherently Uninsurable

Pandemic risk differs significantly from other types of disasters such as hurricanes, tornados and wildfires. Each of these natural disasters impacts a limited number of policyholders for a limited period of time. The property and business continuity losses associated with hurricanes, for example, are largely a coastal phenomenon with damaging winds typically dissipating over the span of hours. In contrast, business continuity losses arising from pandemics, by definition, have the potential to impact virtually all policyholders, irrespective of location and nearly simultaneously, with losses continuing over the span of months or even years. The resulting accumulation of losses of the many (rather than the few) prevents the pooling and redistribution of those losses, as essentially all policyholders are impacted. Stated differently, pandemic risk cannot be spread, shared or diversified across policyholders. Given the characteristics of pandemic losses and their financial impact on world economies, insurers and reinsurers will likely have no alternative but to continue to be unable to provide coverage for virtually all future pandemic exposures from insurance policies and reinsurance treaties.[1] These financial and underwriting obstacles underscore the near impossibility of commercially insuring pandemic risk. Indeed, science tells us that pandemic risks are intensifying as globalization and urbanization proceed apace, potentially costing as much as $23.5 trillion over the next 30 years.[2]

The insurability of risk traditionally rests upon six criteria, summarized in Figure 1 and listed below:[3]

i. A risk must consist of a large number of exposure units so that the losses of the few can be distributed across the entire population of policyholders.

ii. Losses must be accidental/random and unintentional in nature.

iii. Losses must be determinable and measurable, enabling accurate and timely adjustment.

iv. Losses cannot be exceedingly catastrophic or financially ruinous to the risk pool as a whole.

v. The probability of loss must be calculable, necessary for the proper modeling and pricing of risk.

vi. The premium charged by insurers to transfer the risk of loss must be economically affordable.

The inability of a risk to meet one or more of these criteria reduces or eliminates its insurability. Pandemic risk violates all six criteria. In technical terms, the violation of these criteria prevents the pooling and redistribution of the losses of the few across the many. In terms of business continuity risk specifically, pandemics produce risks that are undiversifiable, unquantifiable, potentially ruinous, unaffordable and—importantly—intentionally created.

Figure 1 makes clear that the extreme uncertainty associated with pandemic events is inconsistent with several of the basic requirements of insurability. Pandemics are infrequent events of unknown duration and severity. Current estimates of COVID-19's economic impact vary by trillions of dollars, while estimates of potential insured losses vary by tens of billions of dollars. Actuarial models used to estimate claim frequency and severity, establish claim reserves and determine premiums rely heavily on historical data, which is essentially non-existent in the context of pandemics. Because insurers lack even the most basic information necessary to measure and price pandemic risk, pandemics remain largely uninsurable in the private sector.

[1] Insurers may exclude coverage for viral pandemics either by adopting an exclusion endorsement or by not specifically identifying viral pandemics as covered exposures within the "four corners" of the insurance contract. Irrespective of the presence of an exclusion for viral pandemics, the principle that an exposure outside the description of covered risks is excluded still applies.

[3] Rejda, G. and M. McNamara. (2017). Principles of Risk Management and Insurance. (13th edition). Pearson.

While the ultimate economic and insured losses for COVID-19 will remain uncertain for many months, if not years, to come, there is universal agreement that those costs are extremely high largely because pandemics threaten virtually all members of the risk pool (i.e., all businesses) simultaneously. As noted in Figure 1, if the probability of a claim is near certainty, the premium charged will be unaffordably high—likely approaching or even exceeding the expected loss itself.

Insurability also requires that the risk be fortuitous in nature. Fortuity implies that losses are accidental or random and unintentional. While pandemics are naturally occurring events, decisions to close millions of businesses and severely restrict the movement of people are intentional and deliberate, resulting in trillions of dollars in economic loss. Insurers can only assume that governments will make similar decisions during future pandemic events. Likewise, decisions by state and local governments on when and how to reopen their economies and by millions of individual business owners and customers about when and how to reengage in economic activity are also deliberate. These deliberate decisions account for the majority of economic losses arising from the COVID-19 pandemic.

III. Systemic Risk, Insurance and COVID-19

Beyond these six traditional criteria, the COVID-19 pandemic has made apparent two additional risk-related considerations. First, pandemic risk is systemic in nature, meaning that its destabilizing impacts extend throughout the entire economy and cannot be diversified away through private insurance. The magnitude of COVID-19 economic loss is so large that any meaningful commitment of insurance industry capital would be solvency-threatening to insurers, but insignificant to the problem of remediating business interruption losses. Second, legislative efforts to require insurers to retroactively cover excluded business continuity losses represent a systemic risk for the U.S. property casualty insurance industry. The same is true for legislation that would compel insurers to cover these same risks prospectively. Because such legislation, whether written on a retrospective or prospective basis, threatens to exhaust the industry's $800 billion capital base within the span of months, mass insurer insolvencies would be inevitable, likely culminating in the financial collapse of the property casualty industry.

Importantly, only a fraction (significantly less than half) of the industry's total capital is associated with insurers that actually offer business interruption coverage, with the majority of capital backing risks underwritten by insurers protecting homes, vehicles, injured workers and countless liability exposures. This fact suggests that the amount of capital available to finance pandemic-driven business continuity losses is far less than commonly assumed and that losses would become instantaneously destabilizing to commercial insurers and the overall economy.

Property casualty insurers currently underwrite an estimated $100 trillion in potential loss exposure throughout the U.S. economy, a sum equal to 4.5 times U.S. gross domestic product (GDP), assuring that the economic shockwaves of this collapse would be instantaneously transmitted to the broader U.S. economy, amplifying the multi-trillion dollar systemic shocks already present.

IV. Pandemics, Business Continuity Losses and Insurer Solvency

Global COVID-19 economic losses are estimated at some $9 trillion.[4] In the United States, GDP could shrink by 38 percent during the second quarter of 2020 according to the Congressional Budget Office, equating to more than $8 trillion in lost economic output on an annualized basis.[5] Business continuity losses account for a substantial share of that loss. The American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA) estimates that one month's business continuity losses related to COVID-19 for all United States businesses (without regard to whether the business purchased business interruption coverage, as has been proposed in some states) totals approximately $1 trillion per month, which exceeds the current total property casualty industry capital and surplus of approximately $800 billion. The industry's surplus represents capital insurers are legally required to hold to ensure funds are available to pay current and future claims. Limiting this analysis to businesses with fewer than 100 employees produces monthly business continuity losses of $255 billion to $431 billion per month—and $393 billion to $668 billion per month for businesses with fewer than 500 employees (Figure 2). Stated differently, the $800 billion capital and surplus that the industry has accumulated over the course of more than a century could be exhausted in a matter of weeks.

Even if business continuity losses are limited to small businesses (i.e., those with fewer than 100 employees) that actually purchase insurance coverage for business interruption, estimated losses are in the range of $52 billion to $223 billion per month, implying the exhaustion of the industry's capital and surplus in as few as 3.6 months.

Potential business continuity losses arising from COVID-19 not only threaten to rapidly deplete the industry's capital and surplus—but would dwarf premium collected. Monthly business continuity losses of $1 trillion dollars, for example, are more than 200 times the $4.5 billion in monthly premium collected for all commercial property lines (fire, allied lines, and commercial multiple peril non-liability). Note that premiums for business interruption coverage, which are not specifically reported, are only a fraction of this overall commercial property premium amount. Hence the true multiple is much larger.

The massive gap between potential business continuity losses on the one hand and the industry's capital base and premium income on the other, again underscores the uninsurable nature of pandemic risks and demonstrates why these risks are not included in, and are often additionally explicitly excluded from, in-force commercial property policies providing business interruption coverage. Providing private market insurance coverage for pandemic-caused business continuity losses would require multiple times the capital and surplus of the entire property casualty insurance industry. Given these numbers, no private insurance coverage could be provided on an affordable basis for the mass market.

Any fair assessment of the insurability of business continuity losses from viral pandemics for the mass market must also take into account that insurers depend on the strength of the broader economy to pay claims of all kinds. COVID-19's impact on United States property casualty insurers includes expected (non-business continuity) insured losses of $40 billion to $80 billion.

The experience of COVID-19 also reveals that the economic shocks associated with pandemics are highly correlated with declines in asset prices. Financial market volatility amid the pandemic led to an estimated $87 billion loss in property casualty surplus from investment declines during the first quarter of 2020. Gross premium income is also expected to decrease as United States GDP plunges sharply in the second quarter of the year.

V. Conclusion

Business continuity losses arising from widespread viral risks represent an uninsurable risk for the private property casualty insurance industry. The magnitude of potential losses exceeds the claims paying resources of the industry while a lack of historical data impairs the ability of insurers to precisely model the frequency and severity of losses and determine premiums. This problem is exacerbated by the fact that the majority of business continuity losses are driven not by random events, but by the unprecedented and deliberate actions of thousands of public policymakers. The consequences of these actions are not insurable and potentially pose a systemic risk to the industry as a whole and the economy broadly.

The experience of COVID-19 suggests that apart from highly specialized, niche products, it is unlikely that business continuity coverage for pandemic risks can be provided to the mass market by private insurers. The ability to pool and redistribute losses within the private insurance sector is severely compromised. Consequently, any solution involving the financing of pandemic-driven business continuity losses will necessarily require widespread government protection, which could, in turn, encourage increased innovation of specialized products by private insurers and reinsurers.

Requirements of an Insurable Risk	Requirement Met? Yes/No
1. Large number of exposure units	No. While millions of individual businesses suffered business continuity losses arising from the COVID-19 pandemic, the pandemic's effects were global in scale and nearly simultaneous in scope, effectively reducing the number of exposure units to one—the business sector collectively.
2. Accidental/Random and unintentional loss	No. Pandemics are natural phenomena but the decisions by thousands of policymakers at all levels of government to close millions of businesses and restrict the movement of people was intentional.
3. Determinable and measurable loss	No. For insurers to determine losses, the scale and scope of losses for any given risk must be estimable. Business continuity losses from COVID-19, estimates for which remain highly uncertain and range into the trillions of dollars, are indeterminable due to their dependence on decisions made by thousands of policymakers at all levels of government, the pace at which consumers and businesses reengage in the economy and epidemiological developments.
4. No (ruinous) catastrophic loss	No. Unlike traditional catastrophe risks, pandemics by definition threaten all or most or the members of the risk pool simultaneously. The rapid aggregation of losses is destabilizing and potentially ruinous, threatening the solvency of individual insurers and the industry as a whole.
5. Calculable chance of loss	No. Pandemics have occurred throughout history but the policy response to COVID-19 is without precedent. Insurers traditionally rely on historical loss information and trends to estimate the frequency and severity (cost) for risks they insure. No such historical data exists for the policy response associated with the COVID-19 pandemic, hence premiums cannot be determined.
6. Economically feasible premium	No. Because pandemics by definition threaten all or most or the members of the risk pool simultaneously, the probability of loss is close to certainty. The high probability of loss combined with high claim severities necessarily lead to premiums that can approach or even exceed the cost of the claim itself.

Estimated closure losses for small businesses with fewer than 100 employees: $255 billion to $431 billion per month.

Estimated closure losses for small-to-medium size businesses with fewer than 500 employees: $393 billion to $668 billion per month

The potential for such losses for all businesses of all sizes is currently estimated at $1 - $1.1 trillion per month.

I. Opening Comments

Erica Weyhenmeyer welcomed members and guests to the Business Interruption Task Force Meeting and thanked the members for volunteering their time and expertise for the duration of the meetings. She also stated the objective as outlined by the statute, which is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation."

Erica noted that task force members, when answering questions from the public or media, are not authorized to speak on behalf of the task force. She stated that since this is an open meeting, if there are any members of the public or media present, they should be aware that if speaking with a task force member, any comments by the task force members do not represent the opinion of the task force. This distinction ensures the group is consulted before any formal communication is made on behalf of the task force. She also made clear that the task force does not intend to issue a public comment prior to the final report. The intent of this is to foster open dialogue as the group prepares recommendations. The final report will be the only public comment made by the task force.

She stated that the task force is designed to consider possible systemic issues with business interruption policies and will not be commenting on any pending legal action or complaints filed with the Department. If any guests at the meeting are an active party of a lawsuit, she asked they please be aware that this is a deliberative body intended to examine gaps in coverage offerings. Statements made by task force members as part of this review do not reflect legal analysis and are not intended to be used in any pending or future litigation.

Erica then went over guidelines related to the technological platform being used.

II. Introductions and Roll Call of Members/Guests

Erica asked members and guests to introduce themselves.
Members in attendance (alphabetically):

1. Saat Alety, Allstate
2. Chuck Feinen, State Farm

III. Minutes Adoption

Representative Jones stated that Matt Young sent him an unwanted email. Representative Jones stated that people should announce themselves or state if they are recording the meeting. He asked that no one email him individually or send him unsolicited emails. Matt Young that spoke up and said that he was on the call and was not recording, nor had he recorded the previous meeting. Representative Jones said that he does not want to be party to a lawsuit and individuals should state their questions in the public comment section of the meetings. Representative Jones also requested that the Department of Insurance have legal counsel on the call. Erica confirmed that legal counsel was on the call.

Erica asked if there were any corrections to the draft minutes from last meeting. No corrections were suggested. Erica asked if there was a motion to accept the minutes. Representative Jones made a motion to accept the minutes. Chuck Feinen seconded the motion.

IV. Objectives

Erica restated the objective of the Task Force, which consistent with PA 101-0640, is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation." A report on findings and recommendations is due to the Governor and General Assembly by December 31, 2020.

V. Update on NAIC Data Call on Business Interruption Insurance National & State specific

Erica gave an update on the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) Update on Business Interruption Insurance Data Collection: This data call collected total commercial multiple peril premium breaking it out into business owner's policies versus commercial multiple peril policies. Total premium for business income is separately reported.

National Data: (As reported by the P&C C Committee at the Summer National Meeting)

i. Nearly 8 million commercial insurance policies include business interruption coverage. Of those, 90% were for small business, as defined as having 100 or fewer employees; 8% for medium businesses; and 2% for large businesses, as defined as having more than 500 employees.

1. 83% of all policies included an exclusion for viral contamination, virus, disease or pandemic, and 98% of all policies had a requirement of physical loss. Small policyholders generally have a higher percentage of policies with exclusions.
2. Total sum of premium was $44.2 billion, of that $9.2b is Business Owners Policies, and $35 billion is Commercial multiple peril.
    a. Of this total premium 4.90% is specifically premium collected for business income coverage.

Illinois Data:

i. Included in those national numbers is a little more than 355,000 commercial policies written in Illinois. 92% were for small business; and 7% for medium business with 1% for large.

1. Total sum of premium $2.3 billion, of that $490 million is Business Owners Policies, and $1.8 billion is Commercial Multiple Peril.
    a. Similar to the national numbers, 4.04% of the total premium is collected for business income coverage.

A noticeable gap in this data is while we have a breakdown of number of policies for small/medium/large businesses it does not specifically tell us how much premium for business income is dedicated to each size.

VI. Brief 10-15 minute presentation by Dr. Bob Hartwig followed by discussion

Prior to the presentation, Erica noted that this task force may choose to invite a number of experts to present to the group over the course of these meetings. The presentations by experts should not be construed as the endorsement of the group of their views. This will allow the group to hear a broad array of perspectives. When recommending a speaker, a bio should be submitted to the group prior to the meeting the speaker is scheduled to present. Additionally, the Department will provide baseline questions for the speakers to address in their presentation to get the discussion started and task force members will have an opportunity to ask additional questions at the end. In an attempt to get things started here the list of questions for Dr. Hartwig to address.

a. Core concept of insurance/contracts.
b. What is business interruption insurance? What purpose does it serve?
c. What does a business interruption policy cover?
d. Viruses vs. voluntary or mandatory government orders.
e. What is the history of virus or pandemic exclusions?

Dr. Hartwig works for the University of South Carolina and was speaking at the request of the AICPA. He stated that he spent 23 years in private industry prior to his previous job, most recently as the President of the Insurance Information Institute (III). He is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

He discussed how insurance operates and how it operates during a pandemic. He stated that business continuity risk, or business interruption, is fundamentally uninsurable in private industry.

He stated that insurance is loss pooling and distributing losses across the broader population. It only works if a small segment of the population suffers a loss at any one time. The ability to spread risk in a pandemic is severely compromised. He stated that not all risks are insurable and they never have been. He referenced Figure #1 in his white paper, which was previously distributed.

Dr. Hartwig addressed what business interruption insurance covers. It covers the reduction of income and the increase in expense as a result of a covered business interruption loss. The coverage is optional and must be purchased. To trigger the loss of business income, the interruption must be linked to the restoration period while business is suspended during repairs due to a direct physical loss. Loss must come from a covered cause of loss. A business interruption loss in the absence of a physical loss is never covered.

Since mid-2000's, approximately 2006, business interruption coverage included explicit exclusion for viruses, micro-organisms, and pandemics. Viral outbreaks have been and always will be uninsurable, even without an exclusion. Dr. Hartwig said this is really important. The reason being that there is no physical damage. The coronavirus does not result in direct physical damage.

Dr. Hartwig quoted the business losses per month for businesses with 100 or less employees and for businesses with up to 500 employees and compared that to the much smaller premium for the coverage. The losses dwarf the premium. He then compared the monthly losses to the policyholders' surplus for the property and casualty insurance industry and then to the portion of that surplus that is specific to commercial insurers. Potential business interruption losses are so large, they would threaten the solvency of the entire property and casualty insurance industry in just a few weeks or months.

In summary, Dr. Hartwig repeated that business interruption losses due to a pandemic are not insurable and can only be handled by the government.

Kevin Martin asked Dr. Hartwig if he was familiar with and could discuss what was going on at the federal level. Dr. Hartwig stated that a number of proposals had been put forth. He mentioned a program called Business Partnership Protection Program. It is managed by FEMA and is a disaster relief program. Under this program, insurers do not bear any of the risk, but rather facilitate getting cash in the hands of businesses. There is another proposal modeled after the terrorism act, but for pandemics. Both of these plans recognize that losses are so extraordinarily large that they cannot be managed through the private insurance sector.

Representative Jones wanted to know why Dr. Hartwig didn't reference SARS. Dr. Hartwig said that SARS also did not involve physical damage. SARS was much small in scale, but was the genesis for including exclusion clarification. He stated again though that these exclusions only reinforce what was already the case.

Representative Jones asked about triggers. If the pandemic leads to looting, are rioting and looting business interruption losses covered. He also asked if the Executive Order being in effect would trigger the coverage. Dr. Hartwig said the rioting/looting losses and pandemic closures are separate occurrences.

Representative Jones asked what solution Dr. Hartwig would suggest for Illinois, specifically in addition to federal solutions. And can we wait for a federal solution. Dr. Hartwig responded that losses of this magnitude simply cannot be financed by the private insurance industry. It will take time for a federal solution and it won't be perfect, but it is the best option.

VII. Structure of Meetings/Next Steps

The extension of the meeting time to 90 minutes was discussed. Representative Jones made the motion to extend future meetings to 90 minutes, Saat Alety seconded the motion.

Erica asked if there were any suggestions for future agenda items or additional speakers. Kevin Martin suggested that a summary of the status of potential federal solutions would be helpful, if there were someone who could speak to that. Erica said she would reach out to the NAIC on this to see if someone from there would be willing to speak.

VIII. Comments

The meeting was opened for public comments. There were no comments.

IX. Adjourn

The Meeting adjourned at 11:02 AM

Re: November 19, 2020 hearing on "Insuring Against a Pandemic: Challenges and Solutions for Policyholders and Insurers"

Dear Chairman Clay and Ranking Member Stivers:

On behalf of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC),[1] we appreciate the opportunity to submit this letter for the November 19, 2020 hearing on "Insuring Against a Pandemic: Challenges and Solutions for Policyholders and Insurers." As the COVID-19 pandemic continues to take a devastating toll on our nation, state insurance regulators share your commitment to working to help mitigate its damaging impacts and prepare for the future. We continue to focus on protecting the health and safety of insurance consumers and ensuring the ongoing stability and operation of our nation's insurance sector. We appreciate the subcommittee's attention to exploring the issues around the impact of pandemic risk and the roles the federal government, insurers, and businesses can potentially play to help alleviate that risk.

The risk of a pandemic is difficult to insure and state insurance regulators have seen evidence that demonstrates the insurance industry is not able to take on a substantial portion of this risk on their own. State insurance regulators, through the NAIC, issued a data call to collect business interruption (BI) information from insurers to understand which insurers are writing applicable coverage, the size of the market, the extent of exclusions related to COVID-19, and claims and losses related to COVID-19. The information collected includes data from 230 insurance groups writing coverage for business interruption including the top 50 commercial carriers, who alone represent over 80% of the market. Results show that nearly 8 million commercial insurance policies include business interruption coverage. Of that amount, 90% were for small businesses, defined as having 100 or fewer employees; 8% for medium businesses, defined as having 101-500 employees, and 2% for large businesses, defined as having 501 or more employees. Significantly, 83% of all policies included an exclusion for viral contamination, virus, disease, or pandemic and 98% of all policies had a requirement for physical loss. This is not surprising as insurance

[1] As part of our state-based system of insurance regulation in the United States, the NAIC provides expertise, data, and analysis for insurance commissioners to effectively regulate the industry and protect consumers. The U.S. standard-setting organization is governed by the chief insurance regulators from the 50 states, the District of Columbia and five U.S. territories. Through the NAIC, state insurance regulators establish standards and best practices, conduct peer reviews, and coordinate regulatory oversight. works well and remains affordable when a relatively small number of claims are spread across a broader group. It is therefore not typically well suited for a global pandemic where virtually every policyholder suffers significant losses at the same time for an extended period.

The data also indicates that approximately 200,000 claims have been submitted by policyholders seeking lost income benefits under business interruption coverage with less than 2% of claims having been closed with payment, and nearly 82% of claims having been closed without payment due to no coverage under the policy. We recognize that the pandemic has caused massive disruptions to businesses and it is the expectation of state insurance regulators that insurance companies honor their commitments by paying claims that are covered by insurance policies. However, as we indicated in our March statement to Congress,[2] the NAIC opposes proposals to apply BI coverage retroactively to uncovered claims based on COVID-19 and has serious concerns that requiring retroactive coverage would pose significant risks to the solvency of insurers and potentially systemic impacts to the sector and financial system as a whole.

The data clearly illustrates insurers are largely unwilling or unable to underwrite the risk of a pandemic, creating an enormous coverage gap for American businesses and subsequent liability for American taxpayers. Going forward, Congress should consider proposals that depending on structure could limit taxpayer exposure to the economic consequences of the next pandemic without jeopardizing the solvency of the insurance industry. Therefore, the NAIC supports establishing a federal mechanism to help ensure widespread availability of business interruption insurance for pandemic risks. We understand there are several proposals to establish such a program, including legislation by Congresswoman Maloney (H.R. 7011), and proposals from industry and policyholders. While the NAIC does not have a position on any of the specific proposals at this time, to the extent the insurance sector or insurance contracts are the vehicles used to address such risks, it is critical that any legislative solution be designed in a manner that does not undermine state insurance regulatory authorities to protect insurance consumers and ensure the solvency of the industry. It also must not jeopardize the financial condition of insurance companies or affect their ability to pay other types of claims. Finally, any solution should be affordable to policyholders to ensure adequate take up rates, but also reduce the overall taxpayer exposure to risks from a pandemic.

Separately, we wanted to bring to the subcommittee's attention two reports[3] that the NAIC has issued detailing state insurance regulators' response to the pandemic (attached). As detailed in those reports, state insurance regulators have been engaged in heightened monitoring of the insurance industry since the onset of the crisis and have taken several actions to protect consumers and ensure that the insurance sector remains strong. The NAIC has also created a Coronavirus Resource Center to help consumers, the business community, and insurance professionals understand and manage the risks of the COVID-19 pandemic.[4]

In conclusion, as state officials, we are perhaps closer to the consumers and businesses impacted by this pandemic than any other primary financial regulator. We are on the front lines assisting consumers with policy questions and talking to businesses about their concerns. We are committed to do all that we can to support our communities and remain committed to continuing to work with our federal, state, and local partners to help our country address the devastating health and economic impacts of COVID-19. Thank you for considering the state insurance regulatory perspective. We look forward to continued engagement with you as we work together to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic.

An Introduction

From the beginning of the new coronavirus pandemic, Illinois' response has been guided by data, science, and public health experts. As community spread rapidly increased, Governor Pritzker moved quickly to issue a Disaster Proclamation on March 9, restrict visitors to nursing homes on March 11, close bars and restaurants for on-site consumption on March 16, move schools to remote learning on March 17, and issue a Stay at Home order on March 21. This virus has caused painful, cascading consequences for everyone in Illinois, but the science has been clear: in the face of a new coronavirus with unknown characteristics and in the absence of widespread testing availability and contact tracing, mitigation and maintaining a 6-foot social distance have been the only options to reduce the spread and save as many lives as possible.

Millions of Illinoisans working together by staying at home and following experts' recommendations have proven these mitigation and social distancing measures effective so far. The result has been a lower infection rate, fewer hospitalizations, and lower number of fatalities than projected without these measures. Our curve has begun to flatten. Nevertheless, the risk of spread remains, and modeling and data point to a rapid surge in new cases if all mitigation measures were to be immediately lifted.

Now that Illinois is bending the curve, it is vitally important that we follow a safe and deliberate path forward to get our Illinois economy moving. That path forward is not what everyone wants or hopes for, but it will keep Illinoisans as safe as possible from this virus as our economy is reopening.

Restore Illinois is about saving lives and livelihoods. This five-phased plan will reopen our state, guided by health metrics and with distinct business, education, and recreation activities characterizing each phase. This is an initial framework that will likely be updated as research and science develop and as the potential for treatments or vaccines is realized. The plan is based upon regional healthcare availability, and it recognizes the distinct impact COVID-19 has had on different regions of our state as well as regional variations in hospital capacity. The Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) has 11 Emergency Medical Services Regions that have traditionally guided its statewide public health work and will continue to inform this reopening plan. For the purposes of this plan, from those 11, four health regions are established, each with the ability to independently move through a phased approach: Northeast Illinois; North-Central Illinois; Central Illinois; and Southern Illinois.

The five phases for each health region are as follows:

Phase 1 – Rapid Spread: The rate of infection among those tested and the number of patients admitted to the hospital is high or rapidly increasing. Strict stay at home and social distancing guidelines are put in place and only essential businesses remain open. Every region has experienced this phase once already, and could return to it if mitigation efforts are unsuccessful.

Phase 2 – Flattening: The rate of infection among those tested and the number of patients admitted to the hospital beds and ICU beds increases at an ever slower rate, moving toward a flat and even a downward trajectory. Non-essential retail stores reopen for curb-side pickup and delivery. Illinoisans are directed to wear a face covering when outside the home and can begin enjoying additional outdoor activities like golf, boating and fishing while practicing social distancing. To varying degrees, every region is experiencing flattening as of early May.

Phase 3 – Recovery: The rate of infection among those surveillance tested, the number of patients admitted to the hospital, and the number of patients needing ICU beds is stable or declining. Manufacturing, offices, retail, barbershops and salons can reopen to the public with capacity and other limits and safety precautions. Gatherings limited to 10 people or fewer are allowed. Face coverings and social distancing are the norm.

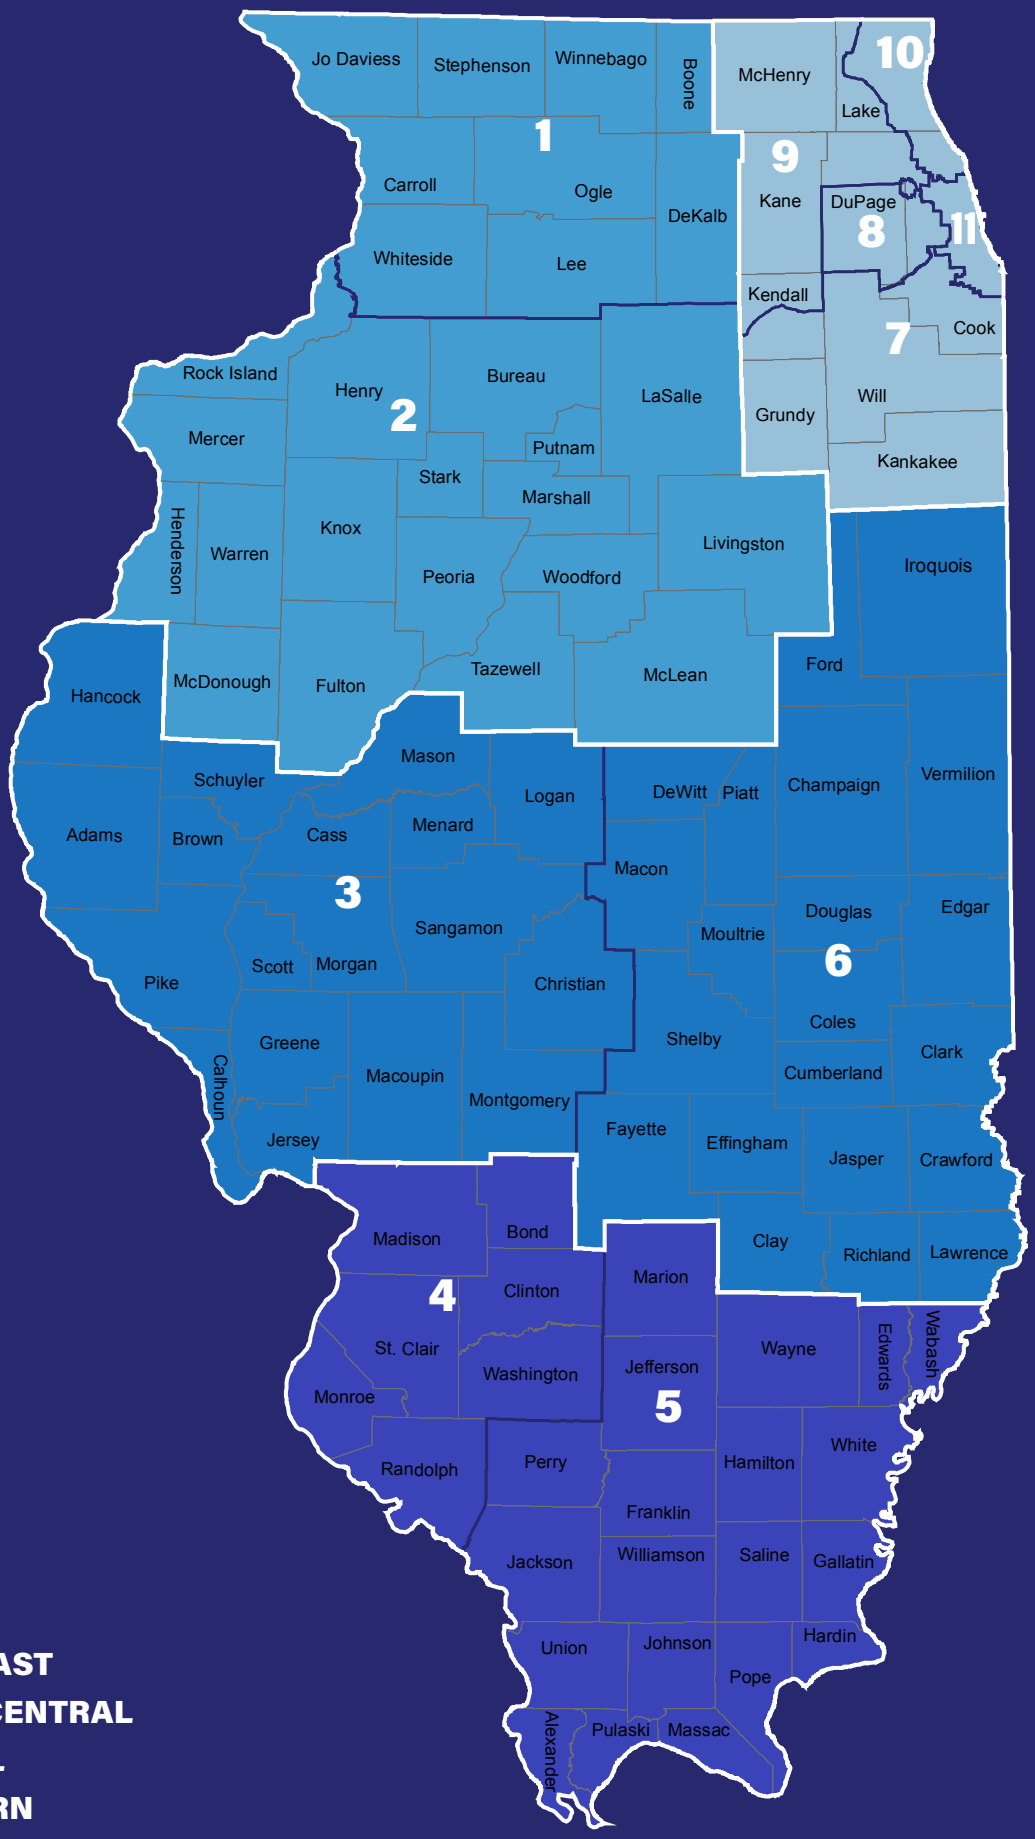
Phase 4 – Revitalization: The rate of infection among those surveillance tested and the number of patients admitted to the hospital continues to decline. Gatherings of 50 people or fewer are allowed, restaurants and bars reopen, travel resumes, child care and schools reopen under guidance from the Illinois Department of Public Health. Face coverings and social distancing are the norm.

Phase 5 – Illinois Restored: With a vaccine or highly effective treatment widely available or the elimination of any new cases over a sustained period, the economy fully reopens with safety precautions continuing. Conventions, festivals and large events are permitted, and all businesses, schools and places of recreation can open with new safety guidance and procedures in place reflecting the lessons learned during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Until COVID-19 is defeated, this plan also recognizes that just as health metrics will tell us it is safe to move forward, health metrics may also tell us to return to a prior phase. With a vaccine or highly effective treatment not yet available, IDPH will be closely monitoring key metrics to immediately identify trends in cases and hospitalizations to determine whether a return to a prior phase may become necessary.

All public health criteria included in this document are subject to change. As research and data on this novel coronavirus continue to develop, this plan can and will be updated to reflect the latest science and data.

RESTORE ILLINOIS HEALTH REGIONS



Phase 1: Rapid Spread

WHAT THIS PHASE LOOKS LIKE

COVID-19 is rapidly spreading. The number of COVID-19 positive patients in the hospital, in ICU beds, and on ventilators is increasing. The public health response relies on dramatic mitigation measures, like stay at home orders and social distancing, to slow the spread of the virus and prevent a surge that overwhelms the health care system. With a Stay at Home order in place, only essential businesses are in operation and activities outside of the home are limited to essentials, like grocery shopping.

WHAT'S OPEN?

Gatherings: Essential gatherings, such as religious services, of 10 or fewer allowed; No non-essential gatherings of any size

Travel: Non-essential travel discouraged

Health care: Emergency procedures and COVID-19 care only

Education and child care: Remote learning in P-12 schools and higher education; Child care in groups of 10 or fewer for essential workers

Outdoor recreation: Walking, hiking and biking permitted; State parks closed

Businesses:

- Manufacturing: Essential manufacturing only
- "Non-essential" businesses: Employees of "non-essential" businesses are required to work from home except for Minimum Basic Operations
- Bars and restaurants: Open for delivery, pickup and drive-through only
- Entertainment: Closed
- Personal care services and health clubs: Closed
- Retail: Essential stores are open with strict restrictions; Non-essential stores are closed

HOW WE MOVE TO THE NEXT PHASE

Cases and Capacity:

- Slowing of new case growth
- Availability of surge capacity in adult medical and surgical beds, ICU beds, and ventilators

Testing:

- Ability to perform 10,000 tests per day statewide
- Testing available in region for any symptomatic health care workers and first responders

Phase 2: Flattening

WHAT THIS PHASE LOOKS LIKE

The rise in the rate of infection is beginning to slow and stabilize. Hospitalizations and ICU bed usage continue to increase but are flattening, and hospital capacity remains stable. Face coverings must always be worn when social distancing is not possible. Testing capacity increases and tracing programs are put in place to contain outbreaks and limit the spread.

WHAT'S OPEN

Gatherings: Essential gatherings, such as religious services, of 10 or fewer allowed; No non-essential gatherings

Travel: Non-essential travel discouraged

Health care: Emergency and COVID-19 care continue; Elective procedures allowed once IDPH criteria met

Education and child care: Remote learning in P-12 schools and higher education; Child care in groups of 10 or fewer for essential workers

Outdoor recreation: Walking, hiking, and biking permitted; Select state parks open; Boating and fishing permitted; Golf courses open; All with IDPH approved safety guidance

Businesses:

- Manufacturing: Essential manufacturing only
- "Non-essential" businesses: Employees of "non-essential" businesses are required to work from home except for Minimum Basic Operations
- Bars and restaurants: Open for delivery, pickup, and drive through only
- Personal care services and health clubs: Closed
- Retail: Essential stores are open with restrictions; Non-essential stores open for delivery and curbside pickup

HOW WE MOVE TO THE NEXT PHASE

Cases and Capacity: The determination of moving from Phase 2 to Phase 3 will be driven by the COVID-19 positivity rate in each region and measures of maintaining regional hospital surge capacity. This data will be tracked from the time a region enters Phase 2, onwards.

- At or under a 20 percent positivity rate and increasing no more than 10 percentage points over a 14-day period, AND
- No overall increase (i.e. stability or decrease) in hospital admissions for COVID-19-like illness for 28 days, AND
- Available surge capacity of at least 14 percent of ICU beds, medical and surgical beds, and ventilators

Testing: Testing available for all patients, health care workers, first responders, people with underlying conditions, and residents and staff in congregate living facilities

Tracing: Begin contact tracing and monitoring within 24 hours of diagnosis

WHAT COULD CAUSE US TO MOVE BACK

IDPH will closely monitor data and receive on-the-ground feedback from local health departments and regional healthcare councils and will recommend moving back to the previous phase based on the following factors:

- Sustained rise in positivity rate
- Sustained increase in hospital admissions for COVID-19 like illness
- Reduction in hospital capacity threatening surge capabilities
- Significant outbreak in the region that threatens the health of the region

Phase 3: Recovery

WHAT THIS PHASE LOOKS LIKE

The rate of infection among those surveillance tested is stable or declining. COVID-19-related hospitalizations and ICU capacity remains stable or is decreasing. Face coverings in public continue to be required. Gatherings of 10 people or fewer for any reason can resume. Select industries can begin returning to workplaces with social distancing and sanitization practices in place. Retail establishments reopen with limited capacity, and select categories of personal care establishments can also begin to reopen with social distancing guidelines and personal protective equipment. Robust testing is available along with contact tracing to limit spread and closely monitor the trend of new cases.

WHAT'S OPEN

Gatherings: All gatherings of 10 people or fewer are allowed with this limit subject to change based on latest data & guidance

Travel: Travel should follow IDPH and CDC approved guidance

Health Care: All health care providers are open with DPH approved safety guidance

Education and child care: Remote learning in P-12 schools and higher education; Limited child care and summer programs open with IDPH approved safety guidance

Outdoor recreation: State parks open; Activities permitted in groups of 10 or fewer with social distancing

Businesses:

- Manufacturing: Non-essential manufacturing that can safely operate with social distancing can reopen with IDPH approved safety guidance
- "Non-essential" businesses: Employees of "non-essential" businesses are allowed to return to work with IDPH approved safety guidance depending upon risk level, tele-work strongly encouraged wherever possible; Employers are encouraged to provide accommodations for COVID-19-vulnerable employees
- Bars and restaurants: Open for delivery, pickup, and drive through only
- Personal care services and health clubs: Barbershops and salons open with IDPH approved safety guidance; Health and fitness clubs can provide outdoor classes and one-on-one personal training with IDPH approved safety guidance
- Retail: Open with capacity limits and IDPH approved safety guidance, including face coverings

HOW WE MOVE TO THE NEXT PHASE

Cases and Capacity: The determination of moving from Phase 3 to Phase 4 will be driven by the COVID-19 positivity rate in each region and measures of maintaining regional hospital surge capacity. This data will be tracked from the time a region enters Phase 3, onwards.

- At or under a 20 percent positivity rate and increasing no more than 10 percentage points over a 14-day period, AND
- No overall increase (i.e. stability or decrease) in hospital admissions for COVID-19-like illness for 28 days, AND
- Available surge capacity of at least 14 percent of ICU beds, medical and surgical beds, and ventilators

Testing: Testing available in region regardless of symptoms or risk factors

Tracing: Begin contact tracing and monitoring within 24 hours of diagnosis for more than 90% of cases in region

WHAT COULD CAUSE US TO MOVE BACK

IDPH will closely monitor data and receive on-the-ground feedback from local health departments and regional healthcare councils and will recommend moving back to the previous phase based on the following factors:

- Sustained rise in positivity rate
- Sustained increase in hospital admissions for COVID-19 like illness
- Reduction in hospital capacity threatening surge capabilities
- Significant outbreak in the region that threatens the health of the region

Phase 4: Revitalization

WHAT THIS PHASE LOOKS LIKE

There is a continued decline in the rate of infection in new COVID-19 cases. Hospitals have capacity and can quickly adapt for a surge of new cases in their communities. Additional measures can be carefully lifted allowing for schools and child care programs to reopen with social distancing policies in place. Restaurants can open with limited capacity and following strict public health procedures, including personal protective equipment for employees. Gatherings with 50 people or fewer will be permitted. Testing is widely available, and tracing is commonplace.

WHAT'S OPEN

Gatherings: Gatherings of 50 people or fewer are allowed with this limit subject to change based on latest data and guidance

Travel: Travel should follow IDPH and CDC approved guidance

Health care: All health care providers are open

Education and child care: P-12 schools, higher education, all summer programs, and child care open with IDPH approved safety guidance

Outdoor Recreation: All outdoor recreation allowed

Businesses:

- Manufacturing: All manufacturing open with IDPH approved safety guidance
- "Non-essential" businesses: All employees return to work with IDPH approved safety guidance; Employers are encouraged to provide accommodations for COVID-19-vulnerable employees
- Bars and restaurants: Open with capacity limits and IDPH approved safety guidance
- Personal care services and health clubs: All barbershops, salons, spas and health and fitness clubs open with capacity limits and IDPH approved safety guidance
- Entertainment: Cinema and theaters open with capacity limits and IDPH approved safety guidance
- Retail: Open with capacity limits and IDPH approved safety guidance

HOW WE MOVE TO THE NEXT PHASE

Post-pandemic: Vaccine, effective and widely available treatment, or the elimination of new cases over a sustained period of time through herd immunity or other factors.

WHAT COULD CAUSE US TO MOVE BACK

IDPH will closely monitor data and receive on-the-ground feedback from local health departments and regional healthcare councils and will recommend moving back to the previous phase based on the following factors:

- Sustained rise in positivity rate
- Sustained increase in hospital admissions for COVID-19 like illness
- Reduction in hospital capacity threatening surge capabilities
- Significant outbreak in the region that threatens the health of the region

Phase 5: Illinois Restored

WHAT THIS PHASE LOOKS LIKE

Testing, tracing and treatment are widely available throughout the state. Either a vaccine is developed to prevent additional spread of COVID-19, a treatment option is readily available that ensures health care capacity is no longer a concern, or there are no new cases over a sustained period. All sectors of the economy reopen with new health and hygiene practices permanently in place. Large gatherings of all sizes can resume. Public health experts focus on lessons learned and building out the public health infrastructure needed to meet and overcome future challenges. Heath care equity is made a priority to improve health outcomes and ensure vulnerable communities receive the quality care they deserve.

WHAT'S OPEN

- All sectors of the economy reopen with businesses, schools, and recreation resuming normal operations with new safety guidance and procedures.
- Conventions, festivals, and large events can take place.

Department of Insurance BII FAQ

Frequently Asked Questions

What is business interruption insurance?

Business interruption insurance is insurance providing lost income and extra expense coverage that businesses incur as a result of an interruption to their business operations. Business interruption insurance coverage found in most policies require that the interruption be a result of direct physical loss to the property and that the loss or damage must be a result of a covered peril. Insureds should review their policies for specific terms and conditions of their coverage.

Does my policy cover COVID-19?

Most business interruption insurance coverage contains a virus and bacteria exclusion that specifically excludes losses that result from any virus, bacterium, or other microorganism that induces or is capable of inducing physical distress, illness or diseases. Please refer to your policy for your specific coverage and consult your agent or insurer if you have questions.

I do not have any policy that says it is a business interruption policy – is it possible that I have coverage under another type of policy?

It is possible to have business interruption coverage under another type of insurance policy. For example, there may be available coverage in policies that cover perils arising out of actions by civil authorities or interruption of your supply chain. You should review your policy and see if it is a covered cause of loss or if it is excluded.

What if my business is closed due to a voluntary or mandatory government order?

Some policies may provide coverage for “civil authority”, which addresses the situation when government prohibits access to your business. If your policy requires a “covered cause of loss” to be the reason why the civil authority restricted access to your business, coverage will depend on whether the COVID-19 outbreak is deemed a covered cause of loss. Some business policies do not have this requirement. Please read your policy carefully.

If I do not have an existing business insurance policy that covers COVID-19, can I buy one?

No. You cannot purchase an insurance policy that would cover a loss that has already occurred. However, you may be able to purchase a business property policy that includes business interruption coverage for future losses. You should review the policy to determine the scope of the coverage provided and discuss any potential other stand-alone coverages that might be appropriate for future losses.

Does my business interruption insurance policy cover me if my employees stay home out of concern about COVID-19?

Business interruption insurance usually requires direct physical loss. Please refer to your policy for your specific coverage and consult your agent if you have questions.

What help is available to businesses affected by COVID-19 at the federal level?

The Small Business Administration (SBA) is offering small businesses impacted by COVID-19 up to $2 million in Economic Injury Disaster Loan Assistance (EIDL). Small businesses in Illinois are now eligible to apply for low interest U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Economic Injury Disaster Loans.

Under the EIDL program, the SBA makes loans available to small businesses and private non-profit organizations in designated areas of a state or territory to help alleviate economic injury caused by the COVID-19.

Small business owners can apply online, receive additional disaster assistance information and download applications . Applicants can call SBA's Customer Service Center at (800) 659-2955 or email disastercustomerservice@sba.gov disastercustomerservice@sba.gov for more information on SBA disaster assistance. For deaf or hearing-impaired individuals, call (800) 877-8339.

Completed applications should be mailed to U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 Kingsport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

What is the State of Illinois doing to further help businesses affected by COVID-19?

If you need assistance, you can access information related to ILDCEO Grants here: https://dceocovid19resources.com/pdf/DCEOCOVID-19EmergencyResourcesforBusiness.pdf

Who can help me understand my business interruption insurance?

Your insurance agent should be able to answer questions regarding coverage and exclusions found in your policy. You may also want to visit your insurance company's website for relevant information.

If you believe that your insurance provider is not honoring your policy, you can submit a complaint on our website, and our team will review it. An online complaint can be filed here: https://mc.insurance.illinois.gov/messagecenter.nsf

Should I consult an attorney if my claim is denied?

The Illinois Department of Insurance encourages you to file a complaint with the Department if you have any concerns that that your claim was improperly denied.

Please be assured that the Illinois Department of Insurance reviews all complaints involving denied claims very closely. However, as a regulatory agency, the Department does not have the authority to determine the liability or amount of a claim.

The Department cannot provide you legal advice or represent you in any legal action. If you wish to pursue this matter, you have the right to consult legal representation or seek recovery through the court system.

If you need assistance finding an attorney to represent you, the Illinois Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division maintains a list of legal aid providers and contact to the Illinois State Bar Association on their website. http://www.illinoisattorneygeneral.gov/consumers/index.html.

I. Opening Comments

Erica Weyhenmeyer welcomed members and guests to the Business Interruption Task Force Meeting and thanked the members for volunteering their time and expertise for the duration of these meetings. She also stated the objective as outlined by the statute, which is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation."

Erica noted that task force members, when answering questions from the public or media, are not authorized to speak on behalf of the task force. She stated that since this is an open meeting, if there are any members of the public or media present, please be aware that if you are speaking with a task force member, any comments by the task force members do not represent the opinion of the task force. This distinction ensures the group is consulted before any formal communication is made on behalf of the task force. She also made clear that the task force does not intend to issue a public comment prior to the final report. The intent of this is to foster open dialogue as the group prepares recommendations. The final report will be the only public comment made by the task force.

She stated that the task force is designed to consider possible systemic issues with business interruption policies and will not be commenting on any pending legal action or complaints filed with the Department.

Erica then went over guidelines related to the technological platform being used.

II. Roll Call of Members/Guests

Erica asked members and guests to introduce themselves.
Members in attendance (alphabetically):

1. Saat Alety, Allstate
2. Chuck Feinen, State Farm
3. Norine K. Hammond, Representative
4. Napoleon Harris, III, Senator
5. Thaddeus Jones, Representative
6. Kevin Martin, Illinois Insurance Association
7. Andrew Perkins, National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies
8. Sue Rezin, Senator
9. Steve Schneider, American Property Casualty Insurance Association

Companies with an announced attendee (alphabetically):

1. AIG
2. Allstate
3. American Association of Insurance Services (AAIS)
4. American Family
5. American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA)
6. Century Insurance
7. CNA Insurance
8. Country Financial
9. Illinois Insurance Association
10. ISO
11. J.W. Hammer, LLC
12. Liberty Mutual
13. Reinsurance Association of America (RAA)
14. Shaddock & Associates

III. Minutes Adoption

Erica asked if there were any corrections to the draft minutes from last meeting. No corrections were suggested. Erica asked if there was a motion to accept the minutes. Chuck Feinen made a motion to accept the minutes. Senator Rezin seconded the motion. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

IV. Objective

Erica restated the objective of the task force, which consistent with PA 101-0640, is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation." A report on findings and recommendations is due to the Governor and General Assembly by December 31, 2020.

V. Federal Business Insurance Activity Presentation by NAIC Senior Financial Policy and Legislative Advisor, Brooke Stringer, followed by discussion

Brooke Stringer stated that the NAIC is the standard setting and regulatory support organization for the chief insurance regulators in the fifty states, DC, and the US territories.

Back in March, the NAIC issued a statement to congress opposing federal legislative proposals that would retroactively apply business interruption coverage on the basis that it would pose a significant risk to the financial solvency of insurance companies.

Two pieces of federal legislation have been introduced that could be retroactive in nature. Business Interruption Insurance Coverage Act, HR6494, introduced by Congressman Mike Thompson D-CA and 'Never Again Small Business Protection Act', HR 6497, introduced by Congressman Fitzpatrick R-PA. Both would seek to require insurance companies make business interruption pandemic coverage available in the case of certain external conditions being met. In part because of the understanding of the solvency impact of retroactive proposals, she stated that the discussion has shifted from retroactive legislation proposals to proposals addressing future pandemics. She stated the most likely candidate for legislative movement in the house has been introduced by Congresswoman Maloney and is called the Pandemic Risk Insurance Act (PRIA), HR7011. Insurers would provide coverage for pandemic related losses and there would be a federal reinsurance backstop to limit total insurer losses. This bill creates a federal pandemic risk reinsurance program, subject to conditions, deductibles, and caps. It would be authorized for seven years and administered by the US Treasury Department. This bill would permit insurers to participate on a voluntary basis. Under the bill business interruption coverage would include event cancellation insurance also. Insurance would be triggered if aggregate industry insured losses exceed $250M. The coverage consists of a combination of private and public funds.

Another proposal has been developed by industry, the Business Continuity Protection Plan (BCPP). This proposal utilizes more of a parametric approach. It is a business revenue reimbursement plan with the federal government reimbursing up to 80% of revenue replacement. Chubb also has a proposal and so does Zurich. The policyholder community is also developing a proposed solution.

Brooke thought it seemed unlikely that a proposal is workable unless it has industry support. She does not believe anything will be enacted into law this year. The NAIC has not taken a position on any of these proposals. The NAIC believes it is critical that a program be affordable to policyholders to get an adequate take up rate, but does not jeopardize the solvency of the industry and does not hinder the ability of regulators to protect consumers and the solvency of the industry.

Brooke Stringer concluded her overview and opened the discussion up for questions.

Kevin Martin thanked Brooke for the overview and asked if she was aware of any state taking legislative or regulatory action for retroactive coverage or anything else. Brooke responded that at the state level, legislation was introduced in eleven jurisdictions. Some include retroactive elements, related to COVID or government shut down. A number face legal obstacles and none to date have advanced.

There were no further questions for Brooke.

VI. Structure of Meetings/Next Steps

Steve Schneider asked if the Department had any recommendations for inclusion in the report. Erica stated that the Department did not.

Representative Jones pointed out that the task force was supposed to be generating ideas and members should speak up, or if they don't want change, they should say so. Steve Schneider stated they do want change. He brought up one of the federal plans, the BCPP, the one brought by industry. He recommended the task force consider that proposal and consider favorably encouraging the legislature on that proposal. Kevin Martin then contributed that they definitely want to come up with a solution, and that there was a lot at stake. Representative Jones said that he is sure the other side has ideas. Representative Hammond stated that it would be prudent to look at existing proposals and referenced Brooke Stringer's comments about the state proposals facing court challenges. She stated the task force could encourage legislators to get behind a federal proposal. Representative Jones asked if the task force is concerned with lawsuits or with fixing the problem. He questioned if the task force is just waiting for a federal solution, are they just wasting their time. Representative Hammond stated that working hand in hand with the federal government would not be a waste of time. Senator Rezin agreed with working cooperatively with federal legislators. She stated that this was a unique situation. The task force may be able to help move a federal solution since this is a crisis situation. They may be able to help move things along more quickly. Representative Jones asked for clarification of whether their goal was not to propose legislation, but to wait for federal action. He asked what happens if the federal government doesn't take action or doesn't take action for two years for instance. He wanted to know if the task force was going to propose a placeholder solution. He then asked Erica if we were going to hear from the other side.

Erica Weyhenmeyer asked Steve Schneider for clarification of the industry proposal. Steve briefly discussed the plan and referenced the uninsurability of the risk. Kevin Martin asked where they were on the discussions on this proposal. Don Griffin, who works with Steve Schneider, further described the proposal and industry efforts to get something moving but said it wouldn't be this year. One thing they want to be sure of is that the states (Illinois included) don't have to pay for it. The federal government is the only entity that can afford the cost. He recommended that Illinois help come up with ways to help prevent the spread of the virus. They do not encourage taking this risk on at the state level, but rather encourage federal action. Representative Jones asked if that was a defeatist attitude. Don Griffin referenced the Illinois budget and the related financial obligation from any Illinois solution. Representative Jones asked why everything had to point back to the budget. Don Griffin said that the product has to be subsidized. Industry can't afford it. The premium would be unaffordable, so there has to be a subsidy. Representative Jones again asked what the other side would say. Don Griffin said that the other side would want industry to pay it all now. But retroactive legislation hasn't passed because it has to work for everyone. Representative Jones said that he appreciates those comments, but thinks it is a one-sided picture. He said he would like to hear from the other side.

The Zurich representative stated that she was not prepared to talk about their solution. She stated that one of the reasons Zurich is pushing for a federal solution is that they need one option, one solution, not fifty plus options. Representative Jones said that he understands and maybe the federal government could come up with a guideline. The Zurich representative stated their program is somewhat based on the crop plan. Representative Jones asked again what happens if the federal government doesn't act? Is the task force going to put forward a placeholder solution. Don Griffin suggested the task force wait for the federal government to act. He stated that Illinois doesn't want to move forward by themselves. Steve Schneider stated that they want to drive the federal government to act. He said that this is a national problem, not a state based one. Representative Jones asked again if they should just wait for the federal government or were there any plans that have an element that the state can move forward on? Steve said, the risk is so great, it is uninsurable and there is not much that can be done at the state level.

Representative Jones asked when the task force would have the opportunity to hear from the other side. Erica Weyhenmeyer asked how he was defining 'other side'. Representative Jones said that he meant people supporting policyholders that might have a plan. Erica asked the task force whether they had any recommendations on speakers. Don Griffin stated that there were policyholder groups that would be willing to speak. Representatives Jones was interested in speakers that had solutions.

Erica Weyhenmeyer stated that a recommendation for speakers for the next meeting was needed. She asked if someone could reach out. She then asked if it would be helpful for Zurich to present, or for someone to speak on the BCPP solution until a speaker with an alternate view could be identified. Representative Jones asked if anyone knows of someone with an alternate view. Steve Schneider said they are focused on their solution. Kevin Martin said he was not sure who that entity might be. They need solutions other than 'pay for it'.

Erica asked if while the group considers who could speak to the policyholder perspective if the task force would like to hear presentations on the Zurich and BCPP solutions.

Representative Hammond made a motion to hear presentations on both at the next meeting. Steve Schneider seconded the motion. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

VII. Comments

The meeting was opened for public comments. There were no comments.

Tier 3 Resurgence Mitigations

With a new wave of COVID-19 surging across the state of Illinois and the nation, the state is committed to listening to public health experts and following the science to keep people safe. Tier 3 builds on the Resurgence Mitigation Plan first released in July to suppress the spread of the virus and ensure our hospitals do not become overrun. This new tier aims to limit gatherings and encourages people to stay home to the greatest extent possible, while permitting some industries to remain open at significantly reduced capacities with proper safety measures in place. All detailed Phase 4 operational guidance remains in effect. Where Phase 4 guidance and Tier 3 Mitigations imply different standards, the more restrictive Tier 3 Mitigations will apply. School districts and local officials should follow extensive guidance released by IDPH and ISBE (https://www.isbe.net/Pages/covid19.aspx) in August and make decisions related to in-person and remote learning at the local level, based on the unique needs of their communities. Child care facilities may continue to operate subject to DCFS guidelines (https://www2.illinois.gov/dcfs/brighterfutures/healthy/Documents/Day_Care_Guidance.pdf).

With COVID-19 spread now exponential in every region of the state, our statewide positivity rate at record highs and hospitalizations already surpassing our Spring peak, all 11 regions moved into Tier 3 effective November 20, 2020 at 12:01am. The new mitigation requirements to combat the surge of COVID-19 across Illinois are as follows:

SETTING	Mitigation Requirements
Bars and Restaurants	• All bars and restaurants close at 11pm and may reopen no ear than 6am the following day

	• No indoor service • All bar and restaurant patrons should be seated at tables outside • No ordering, seating, or congregating at bar (bar stools should be removed) • Tables should be 6 feet apart • No standing or congregating outdoors while waiting for a table or exiting • No dancing or standing indoors • No tables exceeding 6 people • Reservations required for each party • No seating of multiple parties at one table • Indoor gaming terminals must suspend operations • Includes private clubs and country clubs

Organized group recreational activities (sports, indoor sports and activity facilities, etc.)	• Pause all indoor group sporting and recreational activities including youth and adult recreational sports, individual training may remain (with facility reservation) • Includes park districts and travel leagues • Outdoor sports and recreation allowed • Participant groups and practices outdoors limited to 10 persons or less with social distancing • Face coverings required for all activities at all times • Locker rooms should be closed • Bowling alleys should be closed
Personal Care Service	• Operate at lesser of 25 clients or 25% capacity • Face coverings must be worn at all times by clients and service providers • Suspend services where a face covering cannot be worn (e.g. facials, beard trims) • Massage therapy and body treatments allowed as deemed necessary by a medical provider, but appointments must be spaced by a minimum of 15 minutes and facilities should take steps to sanitize and circulate clean air through service rooms before and after each service • Virtual consultations recommended
Retail (including service counters)	• Operate at no more than 25% capacity, including general merchandise stores, "big box" stores that offer groceries and pharmacy, and convenience stores • Grocery stores and pharmacies may operate at up to 50% capacity • Encourage delivery or curbside pickup options wherever possible • When in-store shopping is necessary, promote efficient trips and consistent circulation

The provisions above apply to industries/sectors with Restore Illinois Phase 4 guidance or other mitigations. Other functions (i.e. infrastructure, governments, logistics and warehousing etc.) that previously have not been subject to specific guidance may continue regular operations but are encouraged to voluntarily take proactive steps to support new mitigation strategy wherever possible. In these areas, customer serving functions should be limited to 25 percent capacity, aligned with Retail mitigations, and maximize work from home wherever possible.

IDPH will continue to track the positivity rates and hospital capacity metrics in regions over a 14-day monitoring period to determine if mitigations can be relaxed, if additional mitigations are required, or if current mitigation should remain in place. In order for a region to move back to Tier 2 mitigations, a region must experience less than 12 percent test positivity rate for three consecutive days AND greater than 20 percent available intensive care unit (ICU) and hospital bed availability AND declining COVID hospitalizations in 7 out of the last 10 days.

Locations:
CALL-IN ONLY
Call-in Information
Phone Number: 1-312-535-8110
Access Code: 1773841821#

I. Opening Comments

Erica Weyhenmeyer welcomed members and guests to the Business Interruption Task Force Meeting and thanked the members for volunteering their time and expertise for the duration of these meetings. She also stated the objective as outlined by the statute, which is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation."

Erica noted that task force members, when answering questions from the public or media, are not authorized to speak on behalf of the task force. She stated that since this is an open meeting, if there are any members of the public or media present, please be aware that if you are speaking with a task force member, any comments by the task force members do not represent the opinion of the task force. This distinction ensures the group is consulted before any formal communication is made on behalf of the task force. She also made clear that the task force does not intend to issue a public comment prior to the final report. The intent of this is to foster open dialogue as the group prepares recommendations. The final report will be the only public comment made by the task force.

She stated that the task force is designed to consider possible systemic issues with business interruption policies and will not be commenting on any pending legal action or complaints filed with the Department.

II. Roll Call of Members/Guests

Erica asked members and guests to introduce themselves.

Members in attendance (alphabetically):

1. Saat Alety, Allstate
2. Chuck Feinen, State Farm
3. Norine K. Hammond, Representative
4. Thaddeus Jones, Representative
5. Kevin Martin, Illinois Insurance Association
6. Andrew Perkins, National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies
7. Steve Schneider, American Property Casualty Insurance Association
8. Shannon Whalen, Department of Insurance

Companies with an announced attendee (alphabetically):

1. American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA)
2. American Family

3. AIG
4. Allstate
5. Century
6. Chubb
7. CNA

9. Independent Insurance Agents
10. ISO
11. Katten Muchin Rosenman LLP
12. Liberty Mutual
13. Nationwide
14. Traveler's
15. Zurich

III. Minutes Adoption

Erica asked if there were any corrections to the draft minutes from last meeting. Erica asked if there was a motion to accept the minutes. Representative Hammond made a motion to accept the minutes. Kevin Martin seconded the motion. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

IV. Objective

Erica restated the objective of the task force, which consistent with PA 101-0640, is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation." A report on findings and recommendations is due to the Governor and General Assembly by December 31, 2020.

V. Summary of the Congressional Hearing on Pandemic Risk

Saat Alety of Allstate gave an overview of the November 18th Congressional hearing on pandemic risk which was held by the House Subcommittee on Housing, Community Development and Insurance. The panel included five witnesses, with a broad representation of voices and a variety of opinions. There was some support for the Pandemic Risk Insurance Act (PRIA), but some healthy skepticism regarding the concepts encapsulated in the bill. Saat wanted to emphasize that Congress and the Federal Government have formally started the legislative process on addressing pandemic risk. A written summary and copies of the witness testimony are available to members.

Kevin Martin of the Illinois Insurance Association asked if legislators had discussed a timeframe. Saat responded that in general Congress is not quick acting, and with the limited amount of time left in the congressional session it is likely that there will be multiple hearings and other engagements beginning in 2021 and continuing from there.

VI. Section V Draft Presentation

Steve Schneider, Kevin Martin and Andrew Perkins presented their draft of Section V.

Steve emphasized that there were two main goals, including education and advocacy, with the advocacy piece focused on urging the federal government to act on Business Interruption, and specifically recommending a joint resolution in the Illinois General Assembly urging the Illinois congressional delegation to take action.

Kevin added that they drafted an overview of Business Interruption, including what goes into policy decisions and drives rates. He reiterated the need to urge Congress to act.

Andrew added that they have begun work on draft of a joint resolution that would be forthcoming.

Representative Hammond indicated her willingness to be a chief sponsor of a joint resolution.

VII. Discussion on All Sections

Erica asked the Task Force if there were any edits for any of the presented sections. She then reminded the group that any edits should be sent to her, and to please redline any changes, and include a date in the title of the document so the Department can keep track of the latest edits.

Chuck Feinen asked if there would be more added to Section V specifically tying the first four sections with conclusion.

Steve answered that they were deferring to the Department on the final draft.

VIII. Structure of Meetings/Next Steps

Erica indicated that the Department will have draft sent to the group by December 4th in preparation of discussion and edits during the meeting on December 7th. At the December 7th meeting a deadline for final comments, as well as the final draft will be finalized, leaving enough time for the Task Force to vote and adopt the final report on December 14th.

IX. Comments

The meeting was opened for public comments. There were no comments.

X. Adjourn

The Meeting adjourned at 11:22 am.

Triple-I: Policyholders' Surplus Set Aside to Pay Covered Claims

Rewriting Existing Business Interruption Contracts for This Pandemic Would Cause Irreparable Harm to P/C Insurance Industry

New York Press Office: (917) 923-8245; media@iii.org

NEW YORK, April 16, 2020 —In its second public economic briefing related to COVID-19, the Insurance Information Institute (Triple-I) today offered clarity and understanding in terms of the economic impact for the industry; how the industry surplus works for covered claims; and how any attempt to retroactively apply this pandemic to business interruption insurance policies would cause irreparable harm to the financial stability of the property-casualty (P/C) insurance industry.

"Like anything in this world there are limits, and one limit for insurance is that it has never been able to offer a policy in a widely available manner what we are experiencing now – a pandemic," said Sean Kevelighan, CEO, Triple-I. "What we are experiencing economically is unprecedented as it is impacting every single state, and all of the economies within are being negatively impacted – at the same time. With that type of impact, it is not possible to offer insurance, and for this reason pandemics are not included in standard policies. For times like these, it is essential that we look to the government for refunds for auto insurance premiums that to date add up to more than $10 billion. And the industry remains well-employed, so it can continue to serve customers, as there are other covered catastrophes happening and more to come in the form of tornados, hurricanes, wildfires and floods. You may have heard us before say insurance acts as financial or economic first responders. It is critical that we maintain the integrity of our business model, which has been designed hand-in-hand with the regulatory community," Kevelighan stated.

"Insurers price their policies for expected claims, with additional monies set aside for unexpected claims, such as those which are filed during exceptionally severe hurricane seasons," said Dr. Steven Weisbart, senior vice president and chief economist, Triple-I, citing 2017, when Hurricanes Harvey, Irma, and Maria caused tens of billions of dollars in insured losses in the U.S. "The policyholders' surplus backs up every line of insurance each insurer writes. It is calculated as assets, minus liabilities, and rises and falls due to changes in asset values."

A few state and federal lawmakers have identified the policyholders' surplus as a potential source of funds for closed businesses during the COVID-19 crisis, with the monies being disbursed after existing insurance policies are retroactively rewritten to allow claim payouts. The industry's policyholders' surplus stood at $812 billion as of Sept. 30, 2019 and dropped significantly since then. The industry, if it were a single entity, would need a policyholders' surplus of at least $400 billion to meet minimum regulatory standards, according to Weisbart.

"If insurers nationwide had to pay business interruption policy claims for which insurers collected no premium, it could cost the industry each month anywhere from roughly $150 billion to nearly as high as $380 billion," said Dr. Michel Léonard, vice president and senior economist, Triple-I, noting the smaller amount accounted for the U.S.'s small and medium-size businesses that currently have business interruption coverage and the larger amount includes those who do not. "Pandemic-caused losses are excluded from standard business interruption policies because they impact all businesses, all at the same time."

Beyond health insurance, the lines of insurance with the most exposure to COVID-19 are workers compensation, liability, and directors & officers, the Triple-I's economists stated.

Auto, home, and business insurer profits have historically been made through their investment income as opposed to underwriting. Most of this income comes from investments in high-quality corporate and municipal bonds, which account for slightly over 60 percent of U.S. insurers' total invested assets.

Chubb Pandemic Business Interruption Program

John Fielding
SVP and General Counsel,
Global Gov't and Industry Affairs

Chubb's Prospective Pandemic Risk Insurance Proposal

Why Chubb is engaged to find a solution:

- Business Interruption insurance – and some other lines of coverage – generally do not cover pandemic risk
- Widely accepted that pandemic risk is uninsurable so government must play large role, but role for insurers, too
- With carefully constructed federal government program, insurers can bear risk
- Industry skin in the game can provide mitigation and other benefits
- Chubb proposal intended to be a constructive framework to advance the debate

Issues to be Addressed:

- Does the plan require insurers to assume part of the risk? How much?
- Who is covered by the plan? Small? Medium/Large Businesses?
- Are insurers required to offer the coverage?
- Are business required to purchase the coverage?
- Is premium charged?
- Are there policy limits?
- What is the program limit?
- How is the program triggered?
- How are claims adjusted?
- How are reinsurance and excess coverage addressed?

Chubb Pandemic Business Interruption Program

Key Attributes for a Successful Program:

1. A meaningful role for the insurance industry to share pandemic risk with the government
2. A structure that meets the different needs of small, medium, and large businesses
3. Affordability for small businesses, with strong incentives to purchase BI coverage while maintaining choice
4. Effective incentives for broad participation by the insurance industry
5. Fiscally responsible

Chubb Pandemic Business Interruption Program

The purpose of this Program is to assist businesses and mitigate economic disruption during future pandemics through a private-public partnership that combines:

- The ability of the insurance industry to assess and absorb risk onto its balance sheet, while also using its administrative infrastructure (policy issuance, premiums & claims).
- The backing of the Government (and subsidization of premium) since the magnitude of potential loss makes pandemic broadly uninsurable.

Part I - Small Business – BIP (Business Expense Insurance Program

- Provides immediate infusion of cash based on pre-set multiples of payroll at time of policy purchase, paid promptly upon declaration of pandemic. Simple, parametric structure eliminates complexity of adjusting individual claims.
- Businesses know in advance they have cash to cover payroll and other expenses to maintain businesses in event of shut-down. Purchase is mandatory with a strong opt-out; those that do not are not eligible for Program benefits.
- The total Program Capacity floats (set each year by Government) but is estimated at $750B. The industry share in Year 1 is maximum of $15B, rising to $30B over the Program. The timing risk for industry on Government payments is eliminated by pari passu reinsurance structure and LoC facility.
- The Government role is to provide funding capacity, creating affordability and broad participation.

Part II - Medium and Large Business – Pan Re

- Creates a market-oriented program for indemnity-based business interruption insurance, triggered by pandemic, under which the insurance industry and the Government are paid a proper risk adjusted price.
- Participation by businesses and insurers is voluntary. Participating insurers retain a portion of each risk and reinsure the rest to Pandemic Re, a Government owned reinsurance entity.
- The total Program Capacity is $400B of aggregate limit. The industry share in Year 1 is maximum of $15B, rising to $30B over the Program.
- The Government role is provide funding capacity to stimulate the development of a market for pandemic coverage.

Pandemic Business Interruption Program – Term Sheet

	Part I - BIP	Part II - Pan Re
Policyholder	Small businesses = 500 or fewer employees	Large and medium businesses = more than 500 employees
Purchase	Mandatory (strong opt out, ~90% take up expected)	Open market (~30% take up expected)
Premium	Risk appropriate premium for insurers' share; no Government premium	Risk appropriate premium for insurers' and Governments' share
Claim Adjustment	Parametric => processing	Indemnity => claims handling
Policy Limit	3 months payroll (plus operating costs for certain classes)	Up to 3 months of expense, with a max of $50M
Fraud	Policyholder certification and Federal tax return filing process	Insurers' claims adjudication process
Risk Mitigation	Waiting period (14 days)	Waiting period (30 days, or longer as desired). Insured risk management program, helped by underwriting assessment
Program Limit	$750B limit (Layer 1 = $250B, Layer 2 = up to $500B)	$400B limit (30% take up rate => $300B)
Government Share	$735B limit (Layer 1 = $235B, Layer 2 = up to $500B)	$385B limit (30% take up rate => $285B)
Industry Share Year 1	$15B limit	$15B limit
Industry Share Growth	Industry share rises $0.75B annually, stops at $30B in year 20	Industry share rises $1.5B annually, stops at $30B in year 10
Company Share	Company funds 6% of first dollar claims up to company market share of industry limit ($15B in year 1). Government funds 94% from first dollar; 100% above company share.	Company funds 5% of first dollar claims until industry limit is reached ($15B expected through year 5). Government funds 95% from first dollar; 100% above company share.
Qualifying Triggers	1) US CDC medical criteria 2) Declaration of Emergency by HHS or President 3) Federal, State, or Local lockdown in force 4) Excluding Covid-19
Loss Payments	Insurer drawdown on LoC facility for Government share of payments
LOC Facility Issuer	Money Center Bank Syndicate or NY Federal Reserve Bank

ZURICH

Zurich's draft concept for facilitating pandemic protection

August 28, 2020

Context and Background

ZURICH

- Pandemic is uninsurable and potential loss is larger than the industry can financially bear alone
- Solution must be attractive and affordable for businesses (to allow for appropriate take-up rate)
- Solution must be transparent and reliable over the short and long term for the industry, the government, and policyholders

- Businesses voluntarily select coverage through existing brokers / agents, receive premium subsidies (based on size), and use indemnity payments to cover critical financial obligations
- Carriers provide local delivery and service of the program on behalf of government with an opportunity to voluntarily bear risk based on carriers' appetite (through allocation of policies into pools)
- Federal government regulates, manages, and financially supports the program (e.g., develops the product, sets rates, bears risk, reimburses for operating expenses)

As the concept is reviewed, it is important to remember that we are operating off limited facts:

- As of August, we still do not understand the full impact of COVID
- Trillions of dollars are being infused into various sectors of the U.S. economy without knowing the full effect

Purpose and Guiding Principles

Purpose

Guiding Principles

1. Insurance cannot stand in the place of what needs to be borne by the government – Federal government must be at the table
2. Insurers are underwriting experts and adept at bearing risk, however, only for finite risks
   - Pandemic is uninsurable (e.g., no commercial models, infinite risk, unrestricted geography)
   - Insurers can manage the risk by boxing it in and controlling exposure with predefined limits (e.g., cyber)
3. Insurers are adept at quickly and efficiently responding to catastrophes of all kinds
4. Solution must be attractive and affordable for businesses (in order to allow for appropriate take-up rate) and represent the primary monetary recoupment mechanism
5. Concept can be applied to various structural proposals, LOBs and public-private risk sharing approaches

Summary of Zurich's pandemic risk concept

Component	Description
Value Proposition / structure
Pricing / enrollment	• Premium subsidized federally and based upon policyholder selected deductible (e.g., X days) • Rates determined at federal level and based on indexed approach (e.g., industry, region) • Initial enrollment ASAP upon legislation being enacted (mid-term coverage can be offered); following renewals would be part of property program and have same date property policy incepts
Distribution	• Customers purchase through existing brokers and agents (by leveraging existing state producer licensing laws) • Carriers providing fixed property required to offer customers coverage
Reinsurance	• Three federal reinsurance pools (100% ceded, 95% ceded and 90% ceded) • Carriers make policy by policy placement decisions • No minimum placement requirements by pool / treaty (e.g. can place all business in 100% ceded pool) • No reinsurance caps or aggregates
Program administration	• Single set of rules governed at the federal levels (preemption of state insurance laws) • Any private products regulated at federal level • Administration and Operations (A&O) subsidized by program

Pandemic protection would be a public-private partnership between carriers and the federal government

Details to follow

Businesses

Voluntarily selects coverage and uses claim payments to cover obligations

Policy structure and placement

- Works with existing property broker / agent to voluntarily select coverage level

Claims and policy servicing

- Self-certifies losses to Gov't (e.g., via tax filings)
- Uses claim payments to cover critical financial obligations (e.g., payroll, rent, taxes)

Carrier

Delivers Program (mandatory participation) on behalf of Gov't with opportunity to voluntarily bear portion of risk

- Promotes / markets the program
- Administers policies
- Allocates individual policies to risk pools based on appetite
- Trains independent agents / brokers

- Provides risk mitigation consultation and services (e.g., resilience planning)
- Services policies locally
- Pays and manages claims process through policyholder self-certifications

Federal Government (Gov't)

Regulates, manages, and financially supports the program

- Regulates and manages the program (e.g., rates, compliance)
- Subsidizes policyholder premiums
- Pays portion of carriers' administrative and operations expenses (A&O) for placement

- Pays portion of carriers' A&O for claims and servicing
- Establishes framework for monitoring fraud, waste, and abuse of federal program

Pays premium (less Gov't subsidies) → Forwards premium → Pays A&O

Carrier's risk retention level determined by self-selected mix of policyholders across pools

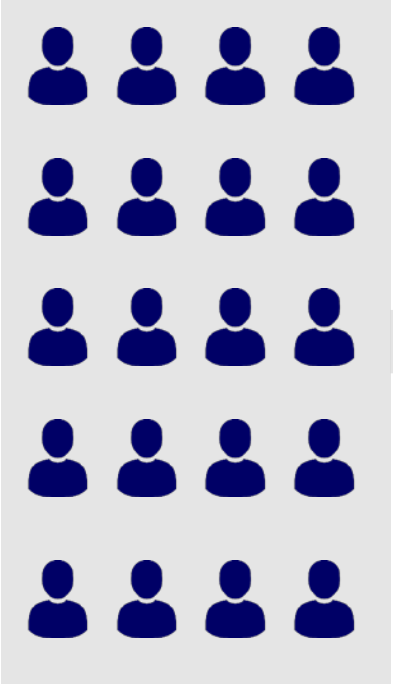
ZURICH

Elements of pool allocation

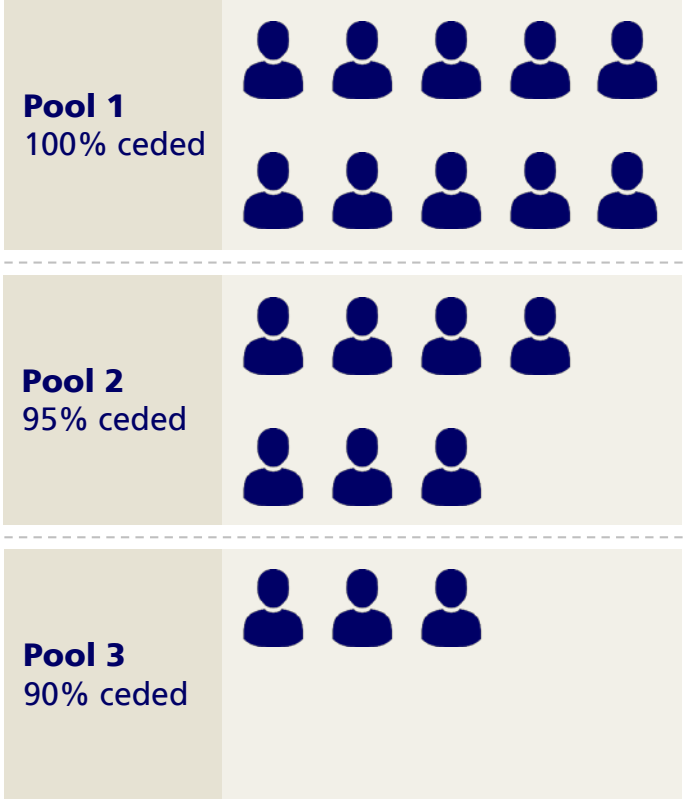
- Carrier has sole discretion to allocate a given policyholder to any of the available pools based on risk characteristics and carrier risk appetite
- Risk retention determined by self-selected mix of policyholders across pools (carrier can utilize all pools)
- Carrier has sole discretion to change risk retention over time (e.g., pandemic risk is more fully understood, risk appetite changes)

Carrier allocation perspective – Example Scenario

Carrier's existing fixed property policy holders



Carriers place individual policies into pools



Potential decision criteria

- High exposure industries / geographies (e.g., urban retail)
- Policyholders with no pandemic risk mitigation procedures

- Moderate pandemic exposures
- Less developed pandemic risk mitigation procedures

- Lowest exposure industries / geographies (e.g., remote professional services)
- Policyholders with well developed pandemic risk mitigation procedures

Estimated that 99% of limits would ceded to federal government.
Over 90% of carrier retained limits would be borne by carriers with > $1B policyholder surplus.
Based on modeling assumptions of carrier pool allocations and insured take-up rates

ZURICH

Zurich worked with the Reinsurance Association of America[1] to create a micro-simulation model to test the concept

External Data Sources

Two critical data sources underpin the micro-simulation model

Bureau of Labor Statistics

Entity expense data (payroll and other expenses), employee count and revenue information by state and industry NAICS group

NAIC Statutory Financial Data

Statutory policyholder surplus and commercial multi-peril market share data by insurer

Baseline Model Assumptions and Variables

Micro-simulation model has variable inputs around four key assumptions allowing cause and effect relationships to be adjusted based on the simulation

Effect Assumption

Product Design

- Covers 80% of expenses for three months, capped at $20M per month for employers with 500 or more employees
- Premium charge of 2% Rate on Line for < 500 employees, 3% for 500 or more
- 0.5% preferred risk discount for qualifying risk mitigation programs

Insured Buying Behavior

- Take-up rate assumptions by industry NAICS group (e.g. Accommodation and Food Services at 90%, Utilities at 20%)
- 30% qualify for preferred risk discount

Federal Reinsurance Design

Three reinsurance assigned risk pools

- Pool 1: 100% ceded, 25% ceding commission
- Pool 2: 95% ceded, 27% ceding commission
- Pool 3: 90% ceded, 30% ceding commission

Carrier Risk Retention Behavior

Pool cession assumptions by policyholder surplus (PHS) carrier bands, e.g.

- Carriers with PHS up to $100M would place 100% into the 100% ceded Pool 1
- Carriers with PHS > $1B would place 85% in pool 1, 9% pool 2, 6% pool 3

Event Scenario Assumptions

Event scenario simulation inputs allow for

Event Assumptions

- $1.1 trillion in economic losses per month
- 3 month event duration
- State and industry NAICS groups impacted (set to all for baseline)

Economic Loss Allocation Methodology

Economic loss allocated to state, industry NAICS group and entity size based on wages, number of entities or number of employees (set to wages for baseline)

© Zurich

1 The Reinsurance Association of America has not endorsed or supported Zurich's concept and their participation should not be taken as an endorsement. They have provided modeling support and technical capabilities for this concept and other proposals.

Model's baseline micro-simulation results in $1.6T insured event based on $3.3T in economic loss, of which $15B is born by the insurance industry

Federal government retains 99% of insured losses

Top five states account for 42% or $661B of insured losses (CA, TX, NY, FL, IL)

$14B of insured losses retained by carriers with policyholder surplus > $1B

Future Pandemics: Approaches to Dealing with Business Interruptions

Understanding the Math

- $23.5 trillion long-term economic losses (WSJ)
- $12 trillion 2020-2021 global economic losses (IMF)
- Over $3 trillion USG relief provided to businesses mid-year
- $203 billion global insurance losses/$100b underwriting (Lloyds)
- Greatest previous global insured loss in history = Hurricane Katrina ($54b)
- U.S. Business interruption premiums last year: $2.4b (NAIC)

Insurability of Pandemic Risks

"Insurance works well and remains affordable when a relatively small number of claims are spread across a broader group. It is therefore not typically well suited for a global pandemic where virtually every policyholder suffers significant losses at the same time for an extended period."

(NAIC statement on business interruption coverage to Congress, May 21, 2020)

Some Talk the Talk, But What is the Market Doing?

Communicable Disease Exclusions: Maintaining Stability in Property Casualty Insurance Markets Amid a Global Pandemic: (Hartwig/Gordon 2020)

- Viral risk has never been broadly covered
- Post-SARS exclusionary endorsements intended to provide additional clarity
- Communicable disease exclusions increasingly widespread in recent reinsurance renewals and primary filings
  - Concerns about market availability where filing approvals delayed

Business Continuity Protection Program (BCPP) Coalition Objectives

- Understand and work to address business needs
- Create a solution to help the U.S. economy manage the risk of future pandemic events, facilitate economic recovery, and assure a more resilient economy
- Achieve stakeholder consensus on a proposal
- Secure enactment of constructive solutions

Copyright © 2020 by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association

Business Continuity Protection Program (BCPP)

- Developed after lengthy review of catastrophic protection models
- War Damages Insurance Corp. = most applicable/successful model
  - WW II war risk was uninsurable
  - Government underwritten program sold by insurance agents
- BCPP also = Before Covid what would the Paycheck Protection Program have looked like if Congress authorized it in advance:
  - Government protection
  - Some offsetting revenue collection and registration (but subsidized)
  - Parametric trigger
  - Strong back-end anti-fraud protections

Copyright © 2020 by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association

How Does the BCPP Work?

- Revenue replacement assistance to protect the business community
  - Businesses purchase up to 80% of payroll/benefits/necessary expenses, up to 3 months protection
- Simple application – IMMEDIATE RELIEF in a crisis
  - One-page electronic application
  - Straightforward parametric trigger (state requested Presidential declaration)
  - Automatic revenue replacement based on previous tax returns
- Resistant to political manipulation
  - Rules/relief formulas established in advance (no certification delay, claims adjustment delay or uncertainty
  - Protection precisely aligned with closure orders

Copyright © 2020 by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association

How is the BCPP Sold/Purchased?

- Eligibility:
  - Revenue replacement assistance available to any interested firm in the U.S.
  - All for-profit and non-profit entities – not barred by size
  - Entities must enroll at least 90 days prior to a Presidential viral emergency declaration in order to receive assistance
- Distribution Channel:
  - Program distribution through state-regulated insurers, agents, and brokers
  - Presentation and policyholder opt-out requirements to encourage take-up rates
- Federally Funded Protection:
  - Subsidies and program designed to ensure widespread take-up

Copyright © 2020 by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association

BCPP – Additional Programs

- Excess Coverage Backstop:
  - BCPP provides foundation for private insurance to develop
  - Would create a voluntary excess backstop to cover losses beyond what is protected by the BCPP

- Event Cancellation:
  - Program would provide financial protection products to address event cancellations
  - Parametric event cancellation product by 2021
  - Excess backstop to support private event cancellation insurance by 2021

Copyright © 2020 by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association

BCPP – Why it would work!

- Businesses
  - Available, simple, immediate relief for businesses directed to close
  - Servicers compete for business
  - Federally subsidized availability/affordability
- Government
  - Preestablished private mechanism for distributing immediate closure relief
  - Alignment of medical/health recommendations, government decisions triggering program, and business's ability to close
  - Costs are partly offset through purchase payments
- Everybody
  - More economic and legal certainty!

Business Continuity Protection Program

(Updated September 2020)

Insurers fundamentally agree that pandemic business interruption is an uninsurable risk. This proposal would establish a voluntary federal program within the Treasury Department that allows for the purchase of revenue replacement assistance for business interruption caused by viral pandemic or other epidemic infectious disease that have been federally declared as public health emergencies.

The proposal also establishes a voluntary federal excess coverage program with a federal backstop for losses beyond what is covered by the BCPP's revenue replacement assistance and provides for the design of financial protection products to address event cancellations resulting from pandemic emergencies through rulemaking requirements. This proposal contemplates the creation of the Business Continuity Protection Program (BCPP) authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to name a director and stand up the program within Treasury with an effective date six (6) months after enactment of the legislation.

Program Purpose

- The program is designed to bolster the country's economic resilience by providing timely and efficient financial protection including payroll, benefits, and expense support to the private sector in the event of a future declared public health emergency
- To enable interested businesses and nonprofit institutions to purchase access to revenue replacement assistance, excess coverages, and event cancellation protection and thereby affordably obtain financial protection from economic shutdowns due to viral outbreaks not found in the private market

Participating in the Program

- Eligibility –Revenue replacement assistance will be available to any interested firm incorporated in the United States or a U.S. territory
  - All for-profit and non-profit entities would be eligible
  - Entities would not be barred from purchasing assistance due to size
  - Entities must enroll at least 90 days prior to a Presidential viral emergency declaration in order to receive assistance payments

- Application – The program director shall develop a simple program application process
  - An easy to complete, one-page electronic application form for participants
  - Program director would request the business' previous one to two years of annual tax returns to determine expected assistance benefit
    - IRS Form 1120 (e.g., Lines 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 23, 24 and 26)
    - Form 990 (e.g., Lines 15, 17, etc. – similar to above 1120 lines)
    - Other official forms as the program director allows

- Businesses with physical locations in more than one state would specify the allocation of risk at time of purchase (EX: 40% of their revenues in NJ and 60% in NY)
- Provide the business categorization based on the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) for purposes of determining assistance benefit formula based on closure status
- The business owner would be required to attest to certain things on the application
  - The facts of the application
  - Future compliance with federal CDC, OSHA, and other specified guidelines
  - That the funds would be used to retain employees and keep the business viable
- The Program should work with risk mitigation experts (e.g., the Insurance Institute for Business and Home Safety's (IBHS)Open for Business-EZ program, the International Organization for Standardization [ISO], and/or others) to develop viral risk mitigation guidelines and safety standards for businesses that would be provided at time of application and payment

- Term of Participation – The program would be open to participants six (6) months after the date of enactment and each certificate issued would be valid for up to one year
  - Once purchased, the program director would provide the details (amount, frequency, and other information) related to the expected assistance benefit

- Renewal – Once purchased the terms of participation cannot be cancelled or altered, but participation is guaranteed to be renewable on an annual basis
  - With each annual renewal participating organizations will be required to submit updated tax information to provide ongoing proof of revenue and expense information
  - Participating organizations will also be required to review, select, and purchase assistance annually

Distribution Network

- The successful support of the U.S. economy during the next pandemic will require a robust level of participation in the BCPP
- Licensed insurance agents and brokers will be authorized to act as the distribution network to market and sell the program's revenue replacement assistance
- Insurers will be required to offer the federal program product to all policyholders who purchase covered lines of commercial insurance coverage
- Businesses and non-profits declining protection must sign a declination page acknowledging they will be ineligible for BCPP benefits
- The program director will establish an administrative fee for application and enrollment servicing

Revenue Replacement Assistance

The program would provide participating entities with revenue replacement assistance based on a percentage of the participant's total payroll and expenses

- Participants could receive up to a maximum of three (3) months relief
- Assistance amount would be for up to 80% of:
    - Ordinary payroll and employee benefits;
    - Contractually obligated payments;
    - Rent or mortgage obligations for commercial property;
    - Other loan obligations;
    - Equipment rental and maintenance costs;
    - Tax and insurance payments; and
    - Other categories of acceptable expenses as the program director see fit to promulgate by rule
- No profits, extra expense, high level compensation or other costs would be considered as part of this program
- Participating entities could choose from desired levels of protection that would be pre-determined by the program director (i.e. 20%, 40%, 60% - up to a maximum of 80% of the program determined expenses)
- The program director would also develop a pre-determined formula for any partial or non-payment based on determinations of an "essential business" by closure order / presidential declaration

Pricing for Assistance

The program director shall from time to time provide by regulation for general terms and conditions regarding the amounts paid for access to the program's revenue replacement assistance

- Rates charged by the program will be calculated as a percentage of revenue each participating organization seeks to replace (payroll and applicable expenses)
- That percentage will be uniform for all participants, and will not vary based on geography or industry
    - The risk of pandemic business interruption presents a unique case in which risk-based premiums could actually induce even greater moral hazard
    - A risk-based model would require firms most likely to be vectors of viral transmission—such as restaurants or hotels—to pay higher rates
    - That would have the effect of depressing the take-up of the program protection and make it more likely that businesses would resist closing their doors
    - Aligning public health interests with policy design recommends instead pricing coverage to maximize take-up by those firms most exposed to the risk of pandemic to align incentives properly for a public health-oriented program
- The program director would set appropriate minimum amounts for assistance
- Pricing would include a charge for administrative costs
- Pricing would be designed to ensure widespread take-up and reduce moral hazards
- The program director would develop a payment plan option

Assistance Payment Trigger

Revenue replacement assistance would be parametrically triggered and disbursed automatically to those affected businesses based on a formula and the protection level selected

- Public health emergencies generally are declared by state and/or local officials, however, deferring to such declarations to trigger coverage under the BCPP could run afoul of the nondelegation doctrine
- Based on the on-the-ground situation, states would request a federal viral emergency declaration
- The contours of the presidential emergency declaration would be laid out in the authorizing legislation which would include the states and business codes of the industries impacted
- The presidential viral emergency declaration would automatically trigger payment

Assistance Payment Process

Once a presidential viral emergency has been declared and BCPP assistance triggered, payments will immediately be disbursed based on a pre-determined formula

- Provided access to assistance was purchased 90 days prior to the presidential declaration, payments would be wired electronically without waiting periods or further requirements
- Participating firms would receive the first full monthly benefit upfront, with additional payments for additional months distributed as needed at 30 and 60 days (for the maximum 90-day protection period)
- Declaration of a public health emergency in a state where a participating business is located would trigger assistance for that portion of a participating organization's expenses located in the emergency zone (as allocated in the application form)
- There would be no traditional claims or claims adjustment process
- Payments would be distributed directly from the federal government to the program participants

Program Asset Management

The program director shall be responsible for the careful management of the BCPP's accrued assets year-over-year

- In years without losses, which should be most years, collected program funds could be used to purchase Treasury securities, which would be credited under federal budget rules as program assets
- Because the program's exposure in any loss year is likely to exceed its available assets, the program should be granted authority to borrow from the Treasury to pay all recorded losses
- To the extent that demand exists for risk transfer at some price and attachment point, the program director could be authorized to retain brokerage services to leverage coverage by using participant payments to place traditional reinsurance or issue insurance-linked securities

Auditing Process / Penalties

- A final audit and accounting of all funds will be completed annually by the federal government no later than 12/31 for any fiscal year ended 9/30

- The program director will establish a post-event auditing process for beneficiaries of the BCPP to ensure the validity of application attestations
- Any participating firm found to have knowingly defrauded the program will be expelled and be subject to stringent penalties, including fines and jail time
- The program director shall be granted clawback authority to require the return of benefits not applied to allowable expense categories

Additional Excess Coverage Backstop

- The proposal would also establish a federal excess insurance backstop to facilitate additional private insurer coverage for losses beyond what is covered by the BCPP's revenue replacement assistance
- Participation in this program would be voluntary for both insurers and policyholders – insurers would not be required to offer the excess coverage and policyholders would not be required to buy it
- Insurers eligible to participate would include those that are admitted in any state, non-admitted insurers that are eligible surplus lines insurers, insurers approved for purposes of offering property-casualty insurance by a federal agency in connection with maritime, energy, or aviation activity, and state residual market entities or state workers compensation funds
- Businesses would need to first participate in the BCPP to purchase this excess product
- Insurers offering business continuity insurance related to business suspension due to an emergency pandemic closure order, including event cancellation or principal speaker cancellation coverage, would be able to utilize the federal backstop
- An insurer would pay claims directly to policyholders and submit claims for reimbursement from the federal backstop (potentially establishing a line of credit with the federal government)
- The federal co-share would be 90% and insurer co-shares 10% of each calendar year's losses (the co-share would not change for the duration of the program)
- There would be a prohibition on duplicative compensation, but insurers are expressly permitted to purchase reinsurance to cover their retained risks
- The bill includes an automatic appropriation to fund both federal claims payments under the backstop and expenses of administering the program.

Event Cancellation Protection

- The program director would also design financial protection products to address event cancellations resulting from pandemic emergencies through rulemaking requirements:
    - Requires that a parametric event cancellation product be created and integrated with the revenue replacement assistance product by the end of 2021
    - Requires that the excess backstop support private insurance coverage for event cancellation by the end of 2021

Miscellaneous

- The BCPP would be run by Treasury, with limited administrative assistance from private contractors
- Businesses purchase this protection product through state-regulated insurance entities that voluntarily participate with the BCPP

- Entities marketing the program or contracting with Treasury to administer the program would not assume any liability for the application process or the determination and payment of benefits
- Aggregated data on prices and payments would be publicly available

I. Opening Comments

Erica Weyhenmeyer welcomed members and guests to the Business Interruption Task Force Meeting and thanked the members for volunteering their time and expertise for the duration of these meetings. She also stated the objective as outlined by the statute, which is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation."

Erica noted that task force members, when answering questions from the public or media, are not authorized to speak on behalf of the task force. She stated that since this is an open meeting, if there are any members of the public or media present, please be aware that if you are speaking with a task force member, any comments by the task force members do not represent the opinion of the task force. This distinction ensures the group is consulted before any formal communication is made on behalf of the task force. She also made clear that the task force does not intend to issue a public comment prior to the final report. The intent of this is to foster open dialogue as the group prepares recommendations. The final report will be the only public comment made by the task force.

She stated that the task force is designed to consider possible systemic issues with business interruption policies and will not be commenting on any pending legal action or complaints filed with the Department.

Erica then went over guidelines related to the technological platform being used.

II. Roll Call of Members/Guests

Erica asked members and guests to introduce themselves.

Members in attendance (alphabetically):

1. Saat Alety, Allstate
2. Chuck Feinen, State Farm
3. Norine K. Hammond, Representative
4. Napoleon Harris, III, Senator
5. Thaddeus Jones, Representative
6. Kevin Martin, Illinois Insurance Association
7. Andrew Perkins, National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies
8. Steve Schneider, American Property Casualty Insurance Association

Companies with an announced attendee (alphabetically):

1. American Association of Insurance Services (AAIS)
2. AIG
3. American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA)
4. Chubb
5. Century Insurance
6. CNA Insurance
7. Country Financial
8. Illinois Insurance Association
9. ISO
10. J W Hammer, LLC
11. Liberty Mutual
12. Nationwide
13. Shaddock & Associates
14. Traveler's
15. Zack Stamp Ltd.
16. Zurich

III. Minutes Adoption

Erica asked if there were any corrections to the draft minutes from last meeting. No corrections were suggested. Erica asked if there was a motion to accept the minutes. Representative Hammond made a motion to accept the minutes. Chuck Feinen seconded the motion. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

IV. Objective

Erica restated the objective of the task force, which consistent with PA 101-0640, is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation." A report on findings and recommendations is due to the Governor and General Assembly by December 31, 2020.

V. Federal Legislative Proposal Presentations

Deirdre Manna, Senior Vice President and Head of Government Affairs in North America for Zurich North America, presenting on the Zurich concept for facilitating pandemic protection.

Deirdre stated that Zurich North America is a top commercial insurer and that Zurich is aligned with the majority of the insurance industry's stance that pandemics are uninsurable. However, they wish to use their knowledge to help manage evolving risks and have developed a draft concept for facilitating pandemic protection. The concept is designed to work in cooperation with other proposals from stakeholders and federal legislators as a way for insurers to bring ideas to the debate.

Deirdre stated that it's impossible for the insurance industry to financially bear pandemic protection alone. The solution must be attractive and affordable for businesses as well as transparent and reliable. The financial stability of the federal government must be relied on, however insurers can bring their expertise in underwriting risk.

Zurich's concept shares key elements with Federal Crop public-private partnerships, specifically that businesses voluntarily select coverage through existing brokers and agents, receive premium subsidies from the federal government based on size, and use indemnity payments to cover critical financial obligations of the business. Carriers provide local delivery and service of the program on behalf of government with an opportunity to voluntarily bear risk based on carriers' appetite and the federal government regulates, manages, and financially supports the program.

Deirdre reminded the task force that we are still in the middle of the pandemic and don't yet know the full effect.

The purpose of the concept is to provide stability and predictability to businesses, ensuring the U.S. economy can hit 'pause' and still take care of its people and then to reduce and level out ad hoc disaster payments.

The concept includes a mandatory offer for customers, a take-all-comers approach based on eligibility independent of the business size. If the customer wanted the coverage, the insurer has to offer it. The coverage itself would protect businesses by allowing them meet their financial obligations. The deductible would be based on waiting days.

The parametric trigger would include a federal emergency disaster declaration, a federal disaster declaration by a state, and business shutdown declared at the state level. The concept would incentivize customers to improve their risk profile. The claims process would simply ensure the trigger conditions have been met, but customer would still be required to self-certify losses.

In terms of pricing and enrollment, rates would be determined at the federal level and based on an indexed approach. Distribution would go through the existing agent or broker. Carriers would provide fixed property required to offer customers coverage. A difference in Zurich's concept to other proposals is that carriers would allocate individual policies into three federal reinsurance pools (100% ceded, 95% ceded and 90% ceded). The carriers would make policy by policy placement decisions, there would be no minimum placement requirements by pool/treaty, and there would be no reinsurance caps or aggregates. It would be possible for a carrier to put all of their plans in the 100% ceded pool, therefore taking on none of the risk.

Businesses would work with existing property brokers and agents to voluntarily select coverage level, carriers would then deliver the program on behalf of the federal government with the opportunity to voluntarily bear a portion of the risk as well as offering risk mitigation services. The federal government would regulate and manage the program, subsidize policyholder premiums and pay a portion of the carriers' administrative and operations expenses, as well as establishing a framework for monitoring fraud, waste, and abuse of the federal program. The customer would be responsible for preparing for pandemic risk and making a claim would be a self-certification loss via tax-filings and used to cover critical business obligations.

The major difference of Zurich's concept is the pools, 100% ceded, 95% ceded and 90% ceded. The carrier would determine the pools based on risk, with the 100% pool including business with the highest amount of risk, such as urban restaurants, and the 90% pool including businesses with the lowest amount of risk, including remote professional services. This allows carriers to manage their own risk.

Zurich worked with the Reinsurance Association of America to create a micro-simulation model to test the concept. The model's baseline micro-simulation resulted in a $1.6 trillion insured event based on $3.3 trillion in economic loss, of which $15 billion is born by the insurance industry. 66% of the insured losses were for entities with fewer than 500 employees, more than $1 trillion in losses. Top five states accounted for 42% or $661 billion of insured losses including CA, TX, NY, FL, and IL. The federal government retained 99% of the insured losses, with $14 billion of insured losses retained by carriers with policyholder surplus of more than $1 billion. It's possible that over the time, the program could evolve and grow as insurers grow comfortable with taking on more risk.

Donald Griffin, Department Vice President, Personal Lines with the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA) presenting their Business Continuity Protection Plan (BCPP). BCPP is a proposal created in conjunction with APCIA, National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies (NAMIC), & Illinois Insurance Association (IIA).

Don started by explaining some of the math underlying the pandemic protection problem, with the general goal of insurance being spreading risk and then being able to pay for that risk on a long term basis. Thus far there have been $23.5 trillion long-term economic losses according to the Wall Street Journal, or $12 trillion 2020-2021 global economic losses estimated by the IMF, over $3 trillion USG relief provided to businesses mid-year, and $203 billion global insurance losses/$100 billion underwriting. In comparison the greatest previous global insured loss in history was the Hurricane Katrina disaster which cost $54 billion dollars. The total amount collected in U.S. Business interruption premiums last year was $2.4 billion, which means that the premiums would cover only one tenth of one percent of the total cost of the claims estimated by the WSJ, with that becoming two tenths of one percent if using the IMF estimate.

The NAIC testified to Congress and stated that insurance is not "well suited well suited for a global pandemic where virtually every policyholder suffers significant losses at the same time for an extended period."

Overall, most commercial insurance policies have a communicable disease exclusions. Viral risk has never been broadly covered, but post-SARS in 2006 more exclusionary endorsements were included, intended to provide additional clarity. Communicable disease exclusions have become increasingly widespread in recent reinsurance renewals and primary filings. Reinsurance is the insurance that insurance companies buy to help spread the risks globally and because they will not cover pandemics, the backstop that the industry uses is gone.

The coalition objectives of the Business Continuity Protection Program (BCPP) are to understand and work to address business needs, create a solution to help the U.S. economy manage the risk of future pandemic events, facilitate economic recovery, and assure a more resilient economy The coalition worked to achieve stakeholder consensus on a constructive solutions.

Jon Bergner, President of Public Policy and Federal affairs with NAMIC to provide additional information on BCPP.

The Business Continuity Protection Program (BCPP) was developed after lengthy review of catastrophic protection models, such as those used in WWII, and included aspects of the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) had the program been authorized in advance of the pandemic. It would utilize government protection, subsidized offsetting revenue collection, subsidized federal protection and assistance as well as a parametric trigger and strong back-end anti-fraud protections.

The BCPP authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to name a director and stand up the program that would offer revenue replacement assistance to protect the business community. Businesses would voluntary purchase up to 80% of necessary expenses, up to 3 months protection. The application is simple, it offers immediate relief in a crisis through a one-page electronic application. It has a straightforward parametric trigger of a state requested Presidential declaration of disaster. The revenue replacement would kick in automatically based on previous tax returns. One of the downsides of the PRIA proposal is that the certification could be affected by political manipulation, which the BCPP gets around by having the standards set in advance which means there is no certification delay, claims, adjustment delay or uncertainty.

Eligibility for the BCPP would be available to any interested firm in the U.S., including both for-profit and non-profit entities and not barred by size. However, entities must enroll at least 90 days prior to a Presidential viral emergency declaration in order to receive assistance which was designed to prevent businesses from purchasing coverage at the last minute in anticipation of an event. The distribution channel would be through state-regulated insurers, agents, and brokers. There would be a mandatory presentation of the federal protection and then built in policyholder opt-out requirements. If the policy holder officially opted out, they would not be eligible for any sort of federal relief package. The program would also be encouraged to heavily subsidize rates. Both of these measure were added with the goal of ensuring widespread take-up rates.

The private revenue collection would be unlikely to be able to fully pay for a pandemic event, but could be used to help defray possible costs as well as encouraging the purchase of reinsurance or possibly disaster relief bonds. Additionally, the BCPP provides the foundation for private insurance to develop a voluntary excess backstop to cover losses beyond what is protected by the BCPP. Due to the heavy demand for event cancellation programs the BCPP has built in development of financial protection products to address event cancellations that would be developed after the program stood up.

The BCPP would provide businesses with available, simple, immediate relief for businesses directed to close, with federally subsidized availability/affordability. The federal government would have a preestablished private mechanism for distributing immediate closure relief and allow for an alignment of medical and health recommendations, government decisions triggering the program, and business's ability to close. Overall, the BCPP would allow for more economic and legal certainty for everyone.

VI. Structure of Meetings/Next Steps

Chuck Feinen asked if the presentations would be available in the minutes. Erica Weyhenmeyer answered in the affirmative and also reminded the task force that all presentation materials are posted on the website for review. She then suggested that because the presentations were elaborate and had a lot of information, perhaps it was a good idea to let task force members review and then be ready for follow up questions and discussion at the next meeting. Steve Schneider clarified Erica's intention and then agreed that time to process the presentations would be helpful. Representative Hammond asked if it was possible to add the link to the presentation materials on DOI's website to the meeting invites to make it easier for members to review prior to presentations.

Chuck Feinen asked if the Pandemic Response Revenue Replacement Mechanisms chart has been reviewed and deemed to be accurate. Donald Griffin affirmed it had been reviewed by the organizations listed in the chart as accurate. Michael Stern from Chubb mentioned that Chubb's proposal has been referenced in discussion and in the chart but has not been presented officially and suggested that Chubb present their proposal at the next meeting. Erica asked the task force if next meeting's agenda should include a presentation from Chubb, with materials for prior review as well as the previously discussed follow up questions from today's presentation. Erica asked if there were other companies who might want to present and there were none and confirmed today's presenters were available for the next meeting for follow up. Andrew Perkins motioned for an agenda that included follow up on today's presentations, as well as a presentation of Chubb's proposal. Representative Hammond seconded. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

Steve Schneider acknowledged that in the prior meetings there had been some frustration that the Task Force was relying too heavily on federal plans and suggested discussing some of the statewide initiatives at the next meeting. He cited the Department of Labor's consulting services for small businesses, as well as the DCEO Business Interruption Grant program for small business applicants. He then volunteered to draft a summary of the programs for the next meeting. Andrew Perkins concurred and has additional information on how the DCEO grants have been broken up by legislative district and is willing to share at the next meeting. Kevin Martin suggested preparing a joint resolution for the upcoming Veto Session of the Illinois General Assembly urging Congress to act on federal proposals. Representative Hammond expressed interest in that idea. Erica suggested adding the overview of statewide programs as well as a discussion on a possible Joint Resolution to the agenda for the next meeting. Andrew Perkins made a motion, with Chuck Feinen seconding. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

Chuck Feinen asked for clarification for the deadline on a draft for the task force report. Erica confirmed the deadline to be December 1st. Chuck asked for details on how the task force would draft something. Erica reminded him that was up to the task force. Representative Jones asked about the timing of future meetings for follow up questions. Chuck expressed worry about the deadline. Representative Hammond asked if it was possible of a synopsis of prior meeting be prepared. Erica agreed to putting together a synopsis including the meeting minutes and presentation materials to be sent to task force members. Erica suggested adding meeting for the week of October 26th. Representative Hammond motioned to add a meeting date for the week of October 26th, Representative Jones seconded. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

I. Opening Comments

Erica Weyhenmeyer welcomed members and guests to the Business Interruption Task Force Meeting and thanked the members for volunteering their time and expertise for the duration of these meetings. She also stated the objective as outlined by the statute, which is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation."

Erica noted that task force members, when answering questions from the public or media, are not authorized to speak on behalf of the task force. She stated that since this is an open meeting, if there are any members of the public or media present, please be aware that if you are speaking with a task force member, any comments by the task force members do not represent the opinion of the task force. This distinction ensures the group is consulted before any formal communication is made on behalf of the task force. She also made clear that the task force does not intend to issue a public comment prior to the final report. The intent of this is to foster open dialogue as the group prepares recommendations. The final report will be the only public comment made by the task force.

She stated that the task force is designed to consider possible systemic issues with business interruption policies and will not be commenting on any pending legal action or complaints filed with the Department.

Erica noted for the task force members that Shannon Whalen has replaced Lauren Peters on the task force.

Erica then went over guidelines related to the technological platform being used.

Andrew Perkins made a motion to accept the minutes. Representative Hammond seconded the motion. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

IV. Objective

Erica restated the objective of the task force, which consistent with PA 101-0640, is to "Study the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on businesses and the need for changes to business interruption insurance policies based on those impacts, including recommendations for legislation." A report on findings and recommendations is due to the Governor and General Assembly by December 31, 2020.

V. Federal Legislative Proposal Presentation - John Fielding, SVP and General Counsel, Global Government and Industry Affairs with Chubb Insurance Company, presenting their Chubb Pandemic Business Interruption Program.

John started by reminding the task force that Business Interruption insurance generally does not cover pandemic risk and reiterated that it is widely accepted that pandemic risk is uninsurable, which means government must play large role in closing the protection gap caused by pandemics. There is a role for insurers, too, and with carefully constructed federal government program, insurers can help bear risk, and can provide mitigation and other benefits.

Chubb feels that there are ten questions that must be addressed in any plan. Does the plan require insurers to assume part of the risk and how much? Who is covered by the plan? Are insurers required to offer the coverage? Are businesses required to purchase the coverage? Is a premium charged? Are there policy limits? What is the program limit? How is the program triggered? How are claims adjusted? How are reinsurance and excess coverage addressed?

Chubb sees several key attributes for a successful program, starting with a meaningful role for the insurance industry to share pandemic risk with the government as opposed to just an administrative role. This is important because industry's involvement can help drive better behaviors and lead to a better understanding of pandemic risk and better risk mitigation and preparedness. It must have a structure that meets the different needs of small, medium, and large businesses, because pandemics do not affect all businesses equally, with small businesses facing harder challenges. Solutions should ensure affordability for small businesses, with strong incentives to purchase business interruption coverage while still maintaining choice. It should include effective incentives for broad participation by the insurance industry and finally, be fiscally responsible.

Chubb's proposal is a private-public partnership that combines the ability of the insurance industry to assess and absorb risk onto its balance sheet, while also using its administrative infrastructure with the backing of the government, including subsidized premiums, because the magnitude of potential loss makes pandemic broadly uninsurable.

Chubb's proposal created a framework that has two main components, one for small businesses and another for medium and large businesses. This is the defining feature of Chubb's proposal and differentiates it from other proposals. The first part of Chubb's proposal BIP (Business Expense Insurance Program) is aimed at small businesses, business with fewer than 500 employees.

The policies would be issued as an endorsement to an existing worker's comp or business owner policy. It provides an immediate infusion of cash based on pre-set multiples of payroll at time of policy purchase and is paid promptly upon declaration of pandemic. It would be mandatory offer, so all insurers that offer business insurance would need to offer the coverage, with voluntary purchase, so businesses would not be required to purchase. However, those that do not enroll will not qualify for government relief which will incentivize enrollment.

The policy limits would be based on three months of payroll, and there would be a 14-day waiting period following the declaration of a pandemic. Claims would be paid through a parametric structure, which provides certainty for the policy holder and avoids challenging claims processes. There would be no premium charged for the government portion of the coverage. The only premium that would be charged would be to cover the risk assumed by the insurer.

The program limit is $750 billion and there are two layers. The first layer is $250 billion. The industry share would be 6%, or $15 billion in the first year, up to 12%, or $30 billion, over the course of 20 years. The second layer is $500 million, in excess of the first $250 million. The triggers would be driven by CDC medical criteria, a Declaration of Emergency by HHS or the President, and federal, state, or local lockdowns. It would also exclude Covid-19 specifically.

The second part of Chubb's proposal targets medium and large businesses with more than 500 employees with a standard reinsurance program Pandemic Re. It would be an indemnity-based program where the insurance industry players and the government would be paid a risk adjusted price for pandemic coverage. It would use traditional claims handling, without a parametric trigger.

The participation of businesses and insurers is voluntary. The premium is risk based. The policy limits are up to three months of expenses with a maximum of $50 million. There's a per policy limit to maintain capacity. The total program limit is $400 billion. The industry share in the first year is a maximum of 5%, or $15 billion, rising to 10%, or $30 billion over the 10-year length of the program. The triggers would be driven by CDC medical criteria, a Declaration of Emergency by HHS or the President, and federal, state, or local lockdowns. It would also exclude Covid-19 specifically.

Erica opened the floor for questions on Chubb's proposal as well as any questions regarding previous presentations.

Kevin Martin of IIA asked John Fielding of Chubb how Chubb planned to unveil their proposal at the federal and state level. John responded that there has been a lot of dialogue between stakeholders regarding various proposals and they have reached out to federal and state legislators, noting that it is unlikely that federal action will happen this year. Chubb has done presentations for NCOIL and the NAIC.

Deirdre Manna from Zurich added that Congress is still considering a relief package for the pandemic.

Representative Hammond asked John Fielding of Chubb if there was a baseline number of participants needed for the program to work. He responded that they did not have baseline of people who would need to buy in and noted that their framework was developed in April and May and the continuation of the pandemic might mean proposals and solutions might evolve.

Steve Schneider from APCIA summarized two programs on the state level that are relevant to the task force. The first is a safe workplace consulting program by the Department of Labor called Back to Business Illinois that connects small businesses with consultants from the department's Workplace Safety and Health Consultation Division to work through safety issues to guard against COVID-19 exposure. The second program from DCEO is a business interruption grant program using in economic relief funds of federal money from the CARES act.

Shannon Whalen added that existing Illinois programs are nicely summarized in documents prepared by DCEO and that Erica can provide a link to members with that information. Once task force members have had the opportunity to review the information provided in the link, Shannon would be willing to go back to DCEO if any further points of clarification are needed.

Steve and Andrew Perkins of NAMIC agreed this would be helpful. Andrew reiterated that he has been working on a breakdown of the dispersal of funds by legislative district that would be helpful for legislators especially and would provide materials to the task force.

Representative Hammond agreed that the breakdown would be helpful and requested an overview of the proposals that have been presented. Deirdre reminded the task force of the chart of existing proposals that was presented by Don Griffin from APCIA and Erica agreed to send out the chart as well as all the current proposals to the task force as well as the DOL and DCEO program overviews.

VI. Structure of Meetings/Next Steps

Erica reminded the task force that the purpose of the meeting on October 29th was set so members can begin work on the first draft of the report and mapping out which members would be responsible for which portions of that report. Chuck Feinen motioned to accept the agenda for the October 29th meeting, Steve Schneider seconded. All were in favor and none opposed. The motion passed.

VII. Comments

The meeting was opened for public comments. There were no comments.

VIII. Adjourn
